Situation Deteriorating, Santo Rebels Report Clash

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A U.S. Marine was killed today, two were wounded and two reported captured in a fight with rebel forces in Santo Domingo.

A U.S. military spokesman confirmed the death of the Marine and the two wounded but said he knew nothing of any Americans being captured.

The spokesman said the Marines were in a patrol that took a wrong turn and headed into insurgent territory instead of back to its own base.

Col. Francisco Caamaño, leader of the rebels, had warned Wednesday that any U.S. troops entering the insurgent zone would be fired upon as violators of the new cease-fire agreement negotiated by the peace commission of the Organization of American States.

Jeep in Rebel Sector

Caamaño made his statement after a U.S. jeep blundered into the rebel sector of Santo Domingo and heavy firing broke out. Caamaño said three American servicemen in the jeep fled on foot and one was wounded.

Both Safe: Washington

In Washington, however, a U.S. official said there were only two men on the patrol and both returned safely. A U.S. official in Santo Domingo said the patrol entered the rebel zone by mistake.

The situation appeared to be rapidly deteriorating. The action took place roughly seven blocks from the rebel command headquarters.

Ratification of the cease-fire pact by both sides Wednesday called for maintenance of existing military lines. A U.S. spokesman had said that while the United States did not sign the cease-fire pact it agreed to abide by it.

American officials announced that four U.S. servicemen were wounded Wednesday in other fighting in Santo Domingo. This brought the total of American casualties in the Dominican crisis to 6 dead, 1 missing and 56 wounded.

Warns of Massacre

Caamaño warned earlier that the U.S. forces could bring on "a massacre" by moving into the insurgents' zone.

A U.S. spokesman replied:

"We have sent word to Caamaño that we reserve the right to effect any moves necessary in the implementation of our mission in the Dominican Republic."

The spokesman added that "U.S. soldiers have received strict orders not to leave the international security zone." But he said that occasionally a patrol may go one or two blocks beyond the zone "because of snipers operating nearby, who might be difficult to get at."

In Washington, the OAS approved a compromise version of a U.S. proposal for establishment of an inter-American military force to help restore peace.

School Budget Hearing Is Set for June 9th

Results of the annual election in the Kingston School District Consolidated were officially canvassed and certified and dates for a public hearing on the 1965-66 budget and for board meetings to adopt the budget were announced Wednesday night at the May meeting of the Board of Education.

Twenty-two professional appointments recommended by Superintendent of Schools W. Wendell Hoover were approved and the resignations of seven teachers were accepted with regret.

After the canvass of the results of Tuesday's school district election, board members unanimously declared Arthur H. Withall, of Rifton, incumbent vice president of the board, and Ellsworth L. Johnson, of Kingston, elected trustees for five-year terms starting July 1. Withall succeeds himself and Johnson will succeed David Kline, Kingston, who was not a candidate for reelection. Kline is incumbent president of the board.

Official Results

The canvass of the election results showed the following: Withall, 1,257; Johnson, 1,183; Donald M. Hastings, of Kingston, 992; Morton Kamen, Hurley, 872. The total vote cast was 4,371, and 2,283 persons voted in the district. There were 52 blanks and 7 ballots were voided. Write-ins (one vote each) were: Arthur Ahl, John Deegan, Robert Herzog, Mark Kachigian, Douw Meyers, A. Streifer, Harry Thayer, Mary E. Halloran.

The board fixed Wednesday, June 9 at 8 p. m. for the public hearing at which taxpayers of the district will have an opportunity to discuss the tentative budget, which is expected to be adopted at a special meeting of the board on Thursday, May 13. Both meeting and hearing will be held in the George Washington School on Wall Street.

Final adoption of the budget for 1965-66 will take place at a board meeting later in June. It was explained at last night's meeting that the tentative budget must be adopted before May 16.

Salaries Passed, Letter By Withall on KTF Stand

Salary schedules for employees of the Kingston School District Consolidated, effective July 1, were approved Wednesday night at the May meeting of the Board of Education. A new salary schedule for teachers in the school system was approved at a special session on April 22.

The schedule passed last night was recommended by Supt. of Schools W. Wendell Hoover.

Arthur H. Withall, of Rifton, who was reelected Tuesday for a second five-year term as a school trustee, read a letter at last night's meeting commenting on a meeting held by the teachers' committee of the board and a representative group of the Kingston Teachers' Federation, at which he offered a suggestion he thought might solve some of the KTF complaints without compromising the board's position on collective bargaining.

In the letter he said, "It would appear that the KTF has one basic objective, collective bargaining, and any decisions arrived at by any other means will meet with criticism and disapproval, even though they be in accord with requests made by the staff."

Withall, vice president of the board, said he had committed himself personally to make a firm proposal of his suggestion in the form of a resolution to be offered at a regular meeting. "My proposal," he said, "was to have been a method of improving relations between the Board and the teachers by allowing more definite involvement of teachers' representatives in board deliberations, in certain specific areas."

His letter continues: "A necessary prerequisite, in order that my proposal might accomplish its aim, was that there be sincere willingness on the part of all concerned to be cooperative, objective and primarily concerned with improving the school system as a whole."

"The approach taken by the Board's Teacher's Committee in its deliberations on the salary schedule was in some respects similar, at least in part, to the proposal I had in mind."

Withall said that the attitude of the KTF representatives, as shown by their comment, and in particular their statement of approval, even though they be in

Onteora Votes $2,819,187 Budget, Trustees Reelected

Onteora Central Schools District voters approved the proposed 1965-66 budget of $2,819,187 by a better than 2 to 1 margin in Wednesday's annual meeting. The final count was 915 for and 453 against.

Board of Education President Philip Gordon of Phenicia and Trustee David Carlson of Woodstock were reelected without opposition to five-year terms.

Carlson received 1030 votes and Gordon, a member of the board since the creation of the Onteora district 17 years ago, polled 949.

A students insurance proposition was carried by a 896-388 vote.

A total of 1,368 voters out of an eligible list of 3,265, the poorest turnout in years, went to the polls. The budget was approved by 69 per cent of the electorate.

Tradition held firm in the Town of Olive where the budget was defeated, 158-141, the lowest margin in years, but the three other voting districts approved it by substantial pluralities.

In Woodstock, the budget won, 350 to 124; Shandaken, 173 to 79; and West Hurley, 251 to 92.

The insurance proposition won in all districts, including Olive where the vote was 150 to 129. The other votes were: Woodstock, 323 to 121; West Hurley,

Planes Rip Hanoi Ammo, More Landings Imminent

Outlook Is Bleak For Reapport Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Solid Republican opposition and ominous grumbling in Democratic ranks placed the Democrats' Assembly-restricting plan in serious jeopardy today.

No Sign of GOP Backing

On the basis of initial adverse reaction, it appeared the plan could not attract enough support for passage if brought to a vote in the Assembly.

Speaker Anthony J. Travia predicted that rank-and-file assemblymen would come to recognize the plan as fair and would vote for it.

But Republican Minority Leader George L. Ingalls saw no sign of GOP backing.

"I would say," Ingalls told the Associated Press, "that there would be a minimal number of Republican votes for this mess—and by 'minimal' I mean none."

These developments followed the much-delayed public unveiling of the 150-page plan Wednesday.

Ingalls attacked it as "a shocking outrage" and GOP State Chairman Carl Spill called it "a highly partisan and gerrymandered plan."

At a public hearing, the start of which was delayed for an hour while Democrats raced to complete the plan, the finished product was assailed by an avowed Democrat as "an act of piracy of the Negro and Puerto Rican vote."

Keeps 150 Members

As expected, the plan proposed to continue the Assembly at 150 members but rearranged the districts so as to increase representation of the metropolitan area at the expense of Upstate.

This was regarded as inevitable because of last year's "one-man, one vote" ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court that forced the New York State government to undertake reapportionment of its Legislature.

The Democratic-controlled legislative committee on reapportionment is working up Senate redistricting proposals, as well, and is aiming for completion within a week. Meanwhile, the Assembly plans to be submitted at a special federal court hearing in New York City next Monday.

Upstate Loses 14

Under the Assembly plan, New York City and the suburban counties of Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk would have a total of 94 seats, compared with the present 80, and Upstate would be left with 56, compared with 70 now.

Republicans were unhappy with the size of their enlarged districts, which would cross county and town lines freely—and in many cases break up dependable GOP bastions.

Democrats complained about rearrangements of district lines in New York, some protesting that they had been victimized by intra-party feuding and maneuvering.

Dem Favors GOP Plan

At the brief public hearing, Guy R. Brewer, a Queens Democratic district leader, said that he preferred a plan passed by the outgoing Republican Legislature last December. The special federal court had approved the GOP plan but the State Court of Appeals ruled it unconstitutional.

Both decisions are being appealed by the losing sides.

Another Democrat, reform leader Edward I. Koch of Manhattan, maintained that Democrats had been guilty of "the same partisanship and the same excesses" that he said pervaded the Republican plan.

In the Upstate reshuffling, many small counties that now have an assemblyman of their own would be combined with other small counties to form single large districts or which would be divided and attached to big counties.

The largest Upstate county, Erie, would gain two assemblymen, going from eight to 10.

Thinks Sheppard Case to End Up In Supreme Court

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Attorney F. Lee Bailey, determined to keep Dr. Sam Sheppard out of Ohio Penitentiary, thinks the case will end up in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Bailey planned to arrive here today from Boston and confer immediately with Sheppard, then with two attorneys helping him on the case.

Sheppard's long fight for permanent freedom was set back when the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati Wednesday ordered him back to prison. The vote was 2-1.

"I was somewhat surprised," Bailey said in Boston. "I thought one of the judges might go against us, but never two. I think there is a chance for a rehearing."

Bailey said "The case has got to end up in the U.S. Supreme Court." I will file a notice of appeal in the next 20 days, and this should stay execution of the order to return Sam to the penitentiary."

Sheppard was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1954 for the bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, at their suburban Bay Village home along Lake Erie. He was released last July after 10 years when U.S. District Judge Carl Weinman ruled he had not received a fair trial because of the publicity the case received.

The state appealed Judge Weinman's ruling.

Bailey has 30 days to seek a stay of execution and file an appeal with the U.S. Supreme Court. (Continued on Page 18, Col. 3)

President of KTF Takes Issue With Withall Comment

The president of the Kingston Teachers Federation said today that the vice president of the Kingston Consolidated Schools Board of Education "broke his own personal promise" to introduce a resolution before the board calling for "some form of representation election" for teachers in the KCS system.

Donald J. Sweeney, KTF president, took issue with a statement made at last night's board meeting by Arthur Withall, BE vice president concerning teacher representation. He said Withall blamed the Federation for failure to introduce a resolution.

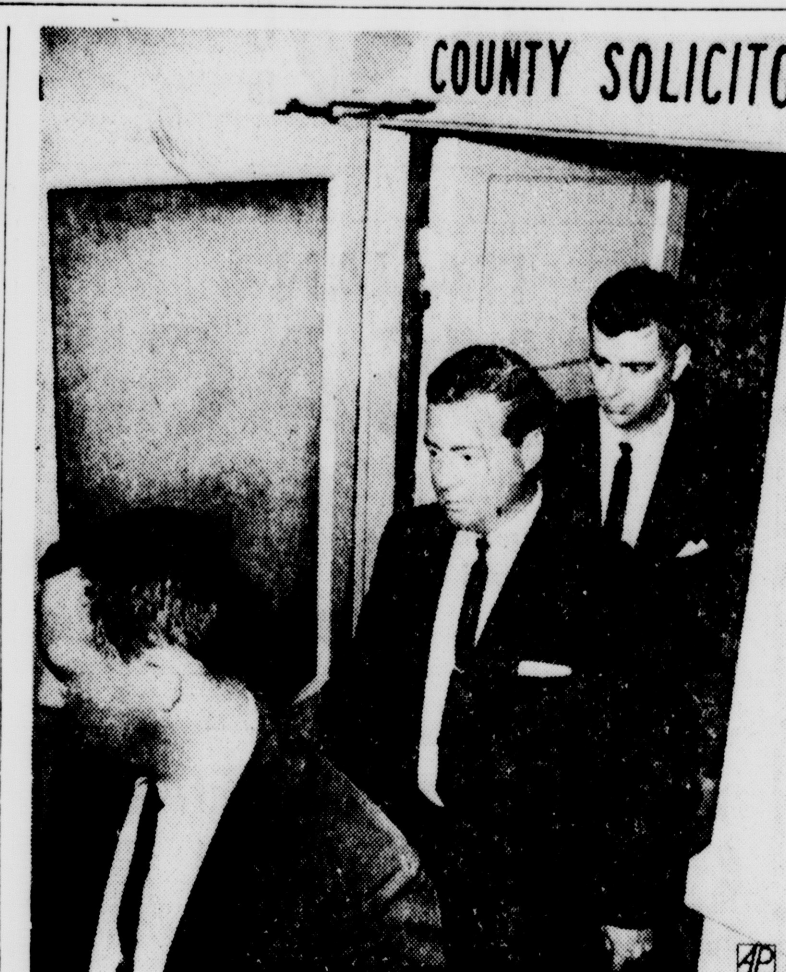

Withall led a field of four candidates seeking two five-year seats in Tuesday's Board of Education elections. He was an incumbent candidate, having previously served a five-year term and currently as BE vice president.

Withall and Ellsworth Johnson of Kingston were declared winners over Donald Hastings, who ran as an independent candidate, and Morton Kamen. Kamen was the only candidate who had the endorsement of the Non-Partisan Committee seeking candidates for the Board of Education.

Withall, although an incumbent, did not receive N-P Committee endorsement, but was given support along with Johnson by a committee of persons who broke off with the N-P Committee over a dispute about professional representation.

Withall and Johnson also had the endorsement of Mayor John J. Schwenk.

In his statement today concerning failure of Withall to introduce a resolution at last night's BE meeting, Sweeney said:

FBI Identifies Gun

Wilkins Is Linked With Liuzzo Weapon

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP)—State attorneys have linked Ku Klux Klan member Collier Wilkins Jr. with the weapon an expert says was used in the slaying of a Michigan mother taking part in civil rights demonstrations.

An earlier witness had traced a 38-caliber revolver to Wilkins, and Marion Williams, an FBI weapons expert, identified it Wednesday as the gun which killed Viola Liuzzo, 39, mother of five.

More Questions

The chief prosecutor, Circuit Solicitor Arthur E. Gamble Jr., said he had "a few more questions" to ask Williams today before the state rested its case. Matt H. Murphy Jr., the Klan's attorney, already had indicated through cross-examination of prosecution witnesses the course his defense may take. He also has shown a revolver which he said he took from FBI informer Gary Thomas Rowe Jr.

Murphy has not said how he will connect the pistol to the case. His only comment was, "I took it away from Rowe before he killed someone and blamed it on us."

Troublemaker Aim

The Klan attorney has sought to portray Rowe, the state's star witness, as a troublemaker hoping to collect a rich reward from the federal government if he could "help break the back of the Klan."

Wilkins, 21, a self-employed automobile mechanic at Fairfield, Ala., near Birmingham, is the first of three KKK members brought to trial for the slaying of the Detroit housewife. Mrs. Liuzzo, the wife of a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death near Lowndesboro (Continued on Page 18, Col. 3)

Outstanding GOP Speaker to Talk At Testimonial

A Republican Congressman from Democratic New York City, who captured 71 per cent of the vote last November in countering the Democratic landslide for President Johnson, will give his formula for victory to Kingston Republicans on May 16.

He is Representative John V. Lindsay of New York's 17th Congressional District, who will be the guest speaker at the May 16 testimonial dinner at Howard C. St. John and Bernard S. Kramer.

Leading GOP Spokesman

Representative Lindsay, now serving his fourth term in Congress, is recognized nationally as a leading Republican spokesman. In great demand as speaker, he has appeared before university student bodies, civic groups, and Republican gatherings in 43 states, and has been seen on network television programs such as "Meet The Press" on many occasions. Military Council Dissolved

Spectacular, Is Raid Assessment

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force jets smashed a North Vietnamese ammunition complex today and claimed "spectacular results." A spokesman said four underground ammunition bunkers blew up after direct hits and four others were left burning.

Strengthens Premier

On the political front, South Viet Nam's Armed Forces Council dissolved itself, ending 18 months of military control of the civilian government. The development strengthened Premier Phan Huy Quat's hand.

A task force of transport planes continued to shuttle the 3,500 men of the U.S. Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade from Okinawa to South Viet Nam.

Reports circulated that the landing of another large group of U.S. Marines was imminent. In the raid north across the 17th Parallel, 25 F105 jet fighters-bombers dumped 80 tons of bombs on the Phu Van ammunition complex, 125 miles southwest of Hanoi.

45 Minute Attack

A U.S. military spokesman said towering black clouds of smoke were rising from the area as the jet pilots broke off their 45-minute attack. All returned home safely.

Flying in the first day of perfect weather in almost a week, the Air Force pilots hit the eight ammunition bunkers and also destroyed five out of six buildings in the complex.

Rain and low clouds had hampered pilots on recent raids and forced cancellation of two strikes.

A U.S. military spokesman said three American servicemen were wounded Wednesday.

Two Army helicopter crewmen were hit during a government operation near Da Nang airbase, and an Air Force enlisted man was slightly wounded during a mission to apply defoliation spray along a road. All three were released after treatment.

Guerrillas Increase

The spokesman said Viet Cong guerrilla attacks in South Viet Nam continue to increase and "a rather substantial number" were reported in the 24 hours ending Thursday morning.

Five Viet Cong attacks were reported Wednesday, with three ending in victories for the Reds. The Communists also fought it out with government soldiers in Quang Province, killing 14 and losing only three known dead.

The brief ceremony dissolving the Armed Forces Council was held in Quat's office. Among those present was the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, one of the most powerful of the generals and a staunch supporter of the civilian government.

The decision to dissolve the council was taken largely at Ky's insistence.

George Bolechowicz and Beacon Marine Dead Following 2 Mishaps Wednesday

A retired Kingston electrician, once one of the city's well known baseball players, was pronounced dead after an East Kingston accident Wednesday afternoon and a Marine from Beacon was fatally injured last night when the car he was driving went out of control and overturned in the Town of Shandaken on the Big Indian-Olivera road.

George W. Bolechowicz, 67, of 126 First Avenue, driver of the car in the East Kingston mishap died of natural causes, cardiac insufficiency, according to Ulster County Coroner Henry S. Hartley of Saugerties.

Warren William Brown 19, of Beacon, who was stationed at Norfolk, Va., died of hemorrhages due to a lacerated right lung and crushed chest, the coroner said.

The car he was driving was that of his sister, Shelia Chaffe of Beacon. It was a 1957 convertible.

Two friends riding with Bolechowicz were injured as his car went out of control and crashed a brick pillar and then a tree south of Route 32, according to Kingston State Police.

They were Stanley Janiczek, 76, of 44 Jansold Street, who suffered lacerations of the face and forehead and possible skull fracture, and Sylvester Bujak, 60, of 118 Third Avenue, who suffered severe lacerations of the face and head and possible skull fracture.

The men were taken to Benedictine Hospital in Fatum's Ambulance. Bolechowicz was dead on arrival.

Brown, victim of the Shandaken accident, was dead on arrival at Kingston Hospital, by Gormley's Ambulance, Phoenix.

The accident at East Kingston, thought to have been caused when Bolechowicz suffered a heart seizure, happened about 2 p. m.

The fatal mishap which took the life of Marine Brown happened about 8 p. m. according to Kingston State Police. It was Ulster County's 12th road fatal this year and the second for the county this month.

Investigating the East Kingston accident were Joseph Franko of the BCI and Troopers Thomas Crowley and John Kohland. The Shandaken mishap was checked by Richard Ryan of the BCI and Trooper Fred Cooper who are continuing their investigation. Assisting in the investigation of Brown's death was Constable Robert Greenie of the Town of Shandaken.

Benedictine Hospital today listed the condition of Bujak as poor. Janiczek was reported in fair condition.

Bolechowicz was a well known baseball player in his youth in the downtown area of the city. As a catcher, he played with many of the leading teams in the area, in the old Twilight League and with the Kingston All Stars. He was named to the Old Timers Baseball Association Hall of Fame in 1963.

Prior to retirement in 1963, Mr. Bolechowicz was employed as an electrician. A native of Kingston, he was a son of the late Stanislaus and Angela Bolechowicz.

In addition to the Old Timers Association, he was a member of the White Eagle Benevolent Society, Holy Name Society, Immaculate Conception Church and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. (Continued on Page 18, Col. 6)

In the world's largest city, Tokyo, there are almost as many people as there are in the whole continent of Australia. Within 37 miles of the center of Tokyo there are more than 25,000,000 people. The population of the city itself, in 1960, was 8,310,027 and the population of the urban prefecture was 9,683,802. Having been repeatedly rebuilt after destruction by fires, earthquakes and World War II air raids, it is one of the world's most modern cities.

Rotarians Hear Of Apportionment

A brief history of legislative apportionment in New York State before and after the Federal Court decision ordering reapportionment in New York was presented by Attorney Maurice Goldberg before members of the Kingston Rotary Club at their luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

The local attorney, who is a former New York State Assistant Attorney General outlined with the aid of charts the four successive bills enacted by the Legislature last December when it was called into special session to act on a plan that would meet terms of the Supreme Court decision. The application of the plans to our Assembly and Senatorial Districts was explained by the speaker as was Plan A, which was approved by the Federal Court.

In the brief time allotted, Attorney Goldberg also reviewed the historic decisions of the Supreme Court that both houses of a bi-cameral legislature had to be apportioned on a population basis. He also spoke of the developments of reapportionment through the Federal and State Courts and the effect the court ruling will have on the city and county governments as well as the state legislative bodies.

'Daisy' Big Hit With Film Crowd

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — On Academy Award night, Rex Harrison, clutching his best-actor Oscar, came to the Governors' Ball at the Beverly Hilton.

He dutifully posed for all the photographers and then grabbed his wife, Welsh actress Rachel Roberts, and hurried off to the Daisy. There he met most of the other Oscar winners along with most of the top names in town.

The Daisy is the movie colony's new "in" spot — a discotheque where movie stars frug, swim and watusi.

It takes a $250 membership fee to get inside unless you know someone who is a member.

Jack Hanson, a sportswear manufacturer, founded the Daisy some months ago. The original Romanoff's restaurant, in the heart of Beverly Hills, was vacant.

Hanson reasoned the movie crowd would appreciate a place where they could let their hair down. And $250 keeps away a lot of autograph seekers.

It took about a week to build up a membership roster that would do justice to a major premier turnout.

On any given night from 10 p. m. on, you can see Eddie Fisher, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra, George Hamilton, Tony Quinn and all the British crowd — dancing with such lovelies as Natalie Wood, Jane Fonda, Tuesday Weld, Arlene Dahl and Stella Stevens.

For those who don't dance, there's a pool room. But beware of Peter Falk. He's the town hustler. So is Leo Durocher, who no longer does his watusi on the Los Angeles Dodgers' third-base coaching box.

Mozart was a prolific composer, producing more than 600 works in his brief life of 35 years.

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, Lisa Hughes has run away from Oakdale, her ex-husband, her child and all her troubles in "As The World Turns" to start a new life — and a new TV serial — in Chicago.

CBS' new evening soap opera started Wednesday night and in a half hour busily planted many little seeds that are bound to develop into big weepy problems during the weeks ahead.

Lisa's new job is in a hospital, the ideal setting for a serial because its a great place to meet people with assorted problems. She already has encountered an unhappy girl patient who has been kicked out of school, drinks too much, has fought with her boy friend and won't speak to members of her worried family.

In terms of plot, the new two-a-week serial looks and sounds to this non-addicted viewer about the same as the run-of-the-mine daytime soap operas. There seems to be one big difference. Nighttime characters spend less time sitting around drinking coffee and discussing their troubles. They discuss them but they don't drink so much coffee. Maybe we viewers should.

NBC, which has been leading the broadcasting pack in color-casts, will have all except two of its regular evening programs next season in peacock raiment. The two black-and-white shows are "Convoy," an action series about World War II merchant

BICYCLES AND SAFETY

This is American Bike Month, the purpose of which is to make cycling healthier, happier, safer and more fun than it already is.

The bike rider of today lives in a world vastly different from that of some fifty or sixty years ago when bicycling reached the dimensions of a craze in this country. Streets and highways today are thronged with automobiles and everyone of them offers potential disaster to the carelessly ridden and handled bike. The rules of bike safety must be learned thoroughly and followed undeviatingly.

Bicycles are vehicles and they are subject to traffic laws. Bicyclists must obey these laws for their safety and for the safety of others.

Bicyclists must ride on the right side of the road with the traffic and must have at least one hand on the handlebars at all times. They may not carry articles that will obstruct their vision.

Bicycle riders must use the same hand signals as motorists and must use their own power and may not hitch onto moving vehicles.

Bicyclists must obey traffic signs and signals such as stop signs and traffic lights. Bicycles operated in the hours of darkness must be equipped with an operating front headlight and a red reflector.

Cycling is a healthy sport and a fun sport, but it requires heavy emphasis on safety.

BETTER OAS MACHINERY

A combination of poor advance intelligence and swift-moving events forced President Johnson to send Marines into the Dominican Republic to protect Americans caught in the revolt. There is little doubt that by then no other course of action was open to him. The lives of many Americans were in jeopardy.

Nor is there much reason to doubt the accuracy of the President's analysis when he told the nation that "what began as a popular democratic revolution, committed to democracy and social justice, very shortly moved and was taken over and really seized and placed into the hands of a band of Communist conspirators." And once this conclusion is accepted, pouring in additional U.S. troops to thwart a takeover by the Communists is not hard to justify. Neither this country nor others allied with it in the Organization of American States want another Cuba in the Western Hemisphere.

None of this alters the fact that we would be much better off had we been able to handle this problem without unilateral intervention. Once again, here is a situation that points up the need for better machinery whereby the OAS rather than the United States individually could act to preserve hemisphere peace. As it is, we are again in the position—in the eyes of the world, at least—of appearing to back a repressive, military-dominated government against forces seeking liberty and justice for an oppressed people.

Whether or not this is our intention, this is how it will seem. Something could be salvaged by working as closely as possible with the OAS as the Dominican situation develops, and by trying to assure that whatever regime gets into power will permit free elections. As for the long run, the United States should seek to improve OAS machinery for concerted action to forestall other such crises in the future.

YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

Each year there are reports of massive teen-ager beer busts on the Florida beaches during spring vacation. This year these reports were overshadowed in many areas by stories of the work done by teen-agers helping to fight the swollen rivers of the Midwest. This is recognition well deserved. Young people built and maintained dikes. They rescued stranded inhabitants, helped feed hungry workers, took care of dispossessed children in area shelters, contributed clothing to those made homeless by the floods. This was done with notable good humor in weather that often was cold and wet.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE TROUBLE WE'RE SEEING

"You Americans," said the Foreign Minister of Ruritania, "are bound to lose out in this struggle for the world for one simple reason: you don't want to make trouble. This puts you at an intolerable disadvantage in dealing with revolutionary foreign powers whose one overriding aim in life is to make trouble for you."

"Oh, boy, how they've got you on the hip! You have only ten fingers, but they've got the dikes leaking in at least thirty places and when you've used up all ten fingers the water's still flowing."

"You didn't want trouble in South Vietnam. You just wanted to train the South Vietnamese to help themselves. A nice idea, and you are nice people. But the other side, specifically the not-so-nice Ho Chi Minh, very definitely wanted trouble. He even made use of a trail in Laos, which is outside his own country, to send the tools and the personnel for trouble-making into South Vietnam. I never hear you remark on the irony that the trail in Laos is called the Ho Chi Minh trail. Something the teach-ins might discuss."

"To deal with the Ho Chi Minh trouble you develop an ad hoc strategy. First it's helicopters to shift troops. Then it's marines. Then it's bombing bridges. But you still don't want any more trouble than is necessary to stop the other fellow from causing trouble. He knows it, which gives him quite an advantage. He can shift the trouble elsewhere, and you, as an ad hoc power, must start all over again."

"Look at what the trouble-makers have been doing to you since you first decided to put that finger in the dike in South Vietnam. They've started to invade your college campuses at home. You don't need many conspirators around to get a full-fledged, peace-at-any-price contagion going, especially when you have a nation whose historians always seem to overlook the pertinent facts of recent history. The president of Howard University, Dr. James M. Nabrit Jr., is out looking at the trouble-makers' picket lines on his campus one day, and whom does he see in the lines but a Communist he once defended. Dr. Harry Gideonson at Brooklyn College had a somewhat similar experience. No, you can't prove it in court that Moscow and Peking are behind this new and explosive rebirth of the campus Left, and it would be 'McCarthyism' if you were to make allegations. But it's sure strange how all the dikes start leaking at once."

"You send marines to Vietnam, and the trouble-makers immediately find a way to divert some marines to the Caribbean. This outbreak in the Dominican Republic is a nice illustration of camouflage trouble-making. Cuba's Fidel Castro makes a speech that blandly predicts guerrilla trouble in Guatemala, Colombia, Venezuela, And to make his point clear, he sends several hundred new Havana-trained recruits into the Venezuelan and Colombian jungles. And then, while everybody is looking at South America, the trouble comes in an island that is right next door to Castro's own Cuba."

"While all this is going on, Miami's Channel Two of the National Educational Television Network is sponsoring a one-hour report, 'Three Faces of Cuba,' which happens to have been produced by a man whose film lectures on Red China and East Germany have been extravagantly praised by Leftist publications. The Cuban exiles in Miami were outraged by the claims that 'Three Faces of Cuba' is 'objectionable,' but this doesn't keep it from going to millions of American school kids as something 'educational.'"

"Then, of course, there's an outbreak of 'banditry' in Thailand. A Canadian is killed on a bus at one of the 'bandit' roadblocks. Twenty-five trucks and cars are held up and robbed without a policeman showing up to stop it. Well, Stalin once held up the banks, and maybe those in charge of Mao Tse-tung's promised Thailand subversion need cash."

"What am I leading up to?" asked the Foreign Minister of Ruritania. "I'd just like to know why your country never had any truck with trouble-making on its own. Why don't you wink at the creation of a Liberation Committee for North Vietnam and a Government-in-Exile for Cuba? Why don't you let Formosa buy landing craft? If you don't get the current flowing the other way through the other fellows' dikes, you're going to be in water up to your necks." (Copyright, 1965, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Prompt Treatment Needed To Assure Peritonitis Cure

Q—What is peritonitis? Can it be cured?
A—Peritonitis is an inflammation of the inner wall of the abdominal cavity. The commonest causes are rupture of the appendix or of a peptic ulcer. It may also follow a gunshot or stab wound of the abdomen or it may occur by extension from a liver abscess or abscess of the uterine tubes. The victim has a severe pain which may be diffused throughout the abdomen or localized in a small area. The pain is aggravated by movement or pressure. There is fever and the victim's breathing is rapid and shallow in order to minimize the pain.

The treatment usually involves opening the abdomen, stopping the leak, flushing out the abdominal cavity and giving massive doses of antibiotics. Fluids by vein and blood transfusions are also often necessary. With prompt treatment recovery is to be expected.

What is meant by milk leg? Is it the same as edema? What causes it and what can be done for it?

A—Milk leg is an inflammation of the deep veins of the thigh and leg, usually on one side only. It is a phlebitis that comes on 10 to 14 days after childbirth or shortly after the milk comes into the breasts. The first manifestation is pain along the course of the involved vein. As the vein becomes plugged by the formation of clots, edema or waterlogging occurs.

Milk leg may be caused by previously existing varicose veins, infection, or too long a period of bed rest following delivery. Dextran, anticoagulants and clot-dissolving drugs are used in the treatment. Smoking should be avoided because it constricts the blood vessels. An elastic stocking or elastic bandage may have to be worn for a while.

Q—Ever since I had my second baby 2½ years ago I have had a feeling of nausea whenever I go into a store. My doctor says it's all in my head. What do you think?

A—Persistent nausea is often caused by anemia, cirrhosis of the liver and chronic low-grade colitis. Even though your doctor may have ruled out these and other possible organic causes, this does not necessarily mean it is all in your head. Emotional tension may, however, be a factor.

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The notion is growing in the United States that there is a curious nobility in breaking, ignoring or misinterpreting the law if it is done in a "good cause."

The cause, of course, can be racial desegregation, campus freedom of one sort or another, U. S. action in Viet Nam, or whatever.

Favoring job integration, some lawyers in Washington have consciously and deliberately advocated a misreading of the Taft-Hartley labor law to give it a racial content its authors and supporters never intended.

Lawyers, politicians, scholars, teachers, artists and clergymen were among the countless persons who voiced unconditional sympathy for the nearly 800 law-breaking demonstrators who rebelled last December on the University of California Berkeley campus.

They appear to have the grossly mistaken view that if an uprising is basically passive and is styled as "civil disobedience," it somehow falls outside normal concept of law violation.

IN A LITTLE-NOTICED DECISION convicting three juvenile Berkeley sit-ins of unlawful assembly in the December rebellion, Alameda County Superior Court Judge Robert H. Kroninger (in the Berkeley-Oakland area) went right to the heart of that issue.

He cited Section 148 of California's penal code which bars any intentional resistance, delay or obstruction of a police officer in the performance of his duty. Arresting persons unlawfully assembled in a school building was, he said, proper discharge of an official duty.

Then Kroninger declared: "It is clear that the response of lying down and relaxing the muscles of the extremities was intentional. And it is equally clear that the purpose and effect were to delay and obstruct the police officers."

"It matters not that the participants describe such resistance as 'passive,' or seek exculpation under the mantle of 'civil disobedience.'"

"Such terms merely obscure the question, as the purpose and effect of such conduct differ only in degree from the responses of flight or violence."

"Resistance to the rule of law, whether active or passive, is intolerable..."

UNFORGIVABLY, the 378 University of California faculty members who sent Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown a telegram of sympathy for the lawbreakers showed not the faintest awareness of this point. In ignoring it, they and all other sympathizers were dangerously close to arguing that the end (the demonstrators' objectives) justified the means (violating the law).

Judge Kroninger sensibly took note of that danger in his opinion when he asserted that "to excuse lawlessness by diverting attention to its avowed purpose would be to reject the rule of law and to invite chaos."

Kroninger also said that those who consciously act unlawfully must accept responsibility as law violators and not plead, as did many demonstrators and sympathizers, for "amnesty" the moment they are arrested.

Civil rights demonstrators, by contrast, usually have been eager to accept penalties for violations, to dramatize their cause. In the present national mood, however, all too many well-meaning but grossly misguided Americans appear to condone breaking or misreading the law "if the end is good"—and to argue that no penalties should apply. They evidently were not listening when Massachusetts Attorney General Edward W. Brooke said recently: "The law applies to all, or it applies to none."

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky — The litter has been cleaned up. The last empty bottle is on the garbage heap. The final Derby horse has left. This city, sunny and gracious, once again thinks north and talks south and sits in the shadow of the Cumberland Mountains with the Ohio River wrapped like a feather boa around its throat.

This is the real Louisville. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad pursues its leisurely business out of the old-fashioned stone terminal; the tobacco factory chimneys are silent in inhaling distance of the farms where the burly is grown; the big distilleries pulse with profit; the strings of barges on the river look like dashes on a typewriter.

Derby week is not the time to see a city with character because the tourists cheapen it. They come here by the scores of thousands from forty-nine other states and they sob a little as they sing "My Old Kentucky Home," but they know nothing of the place and care less.

The Kentucky Derby is held on Saturday and the friendly drinking begins on Tuesday. By Wednesday it is serious and on Thursday it is neurologically compulsory. A thirty-five cent bottle of beer retails for a dollar. The ladies try mint juleps at $2 a copy. This is a frosted hand grenade which explodes between the earrings.

A striptease joint features a girl doorman who stands outside shivering in high heels and tall net stockings. There are parades and firecrackers and paunchy red-faced men in hotel elevators announce that they are kissing cousins to ladies who are strangers.

The college boys bring beer in plastic coolers and drink and laugh and thump their chests on the dark streets testing their bravery on smaller groups. By the time the sun sets on Friday, the women have become loud and the men incoherent. Police sirens scream through the night along Broadway and up and down the side streets.

Saturday morning the roads to Churchill Downs look like used car lots. The cars stand for blocks as the police try to warp 100,000 persons into the race track. Children and old ladies shout from lawns waving cars onto the grass at $2 to $4 per parking space. A group of high school girls display a big sign saying: "SEX." Underneath, in smaller letters, the sign says: "Now that we have your attention, please buy a coke or soft drink from us."

Erroneous Television Image Of CIA Is Called Harmful

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The National Broadcasting Co., put on a television program Tuesday night which in the opinion of many members of Congress and other viewers, did a distinct disservice to the Central Intelligence Agency — the principal instrumentality of the United States in fighting the "cold war" throughout the world.

Based on fragmentary information and isolated episodes, the program gave the impression that the United States is authorizing a clandestine operation which is both improper and unethical. There were some former officials of the CIA on the program, too, but their brief remarks defending the agency's methods were virtually nullified by other commentaries to which prominence was given.

If it were not for the CIA, the United States would not have known about the missile bases in Cuba. Likewise, but for the alertness of the CIA, President Johnson would not have been advised soon enough to take the prompt action he did in the Dominican Republic. Naturally, some of its methods are severe. But so are the bullets and bombs of an enemy army in what is known as a "hot war."

Too many people are unaware that the investigative work being done by the United States today through the CIA is one of the most important bulwarks against the Communists, who, by infiltration, are seeking to take over small countries everywhere. One test of the effectiveness of the CIA is whether the Communists will be able to gain control of Latin-American countries from Mexico southward, and whether the United States will be confronted with bases which could be operated by hostile forces capable of using missiles and nuclear weapons.

The "cold war" is not a moral or ethical affair. Neither side is polite in waging its war, but the duty of the press, including television and radio, is to co-operate with their own government in withholding information concerning the activities of any governmental agency which is engaged in secret operations to protect the American people against sudden attack.

During a world war, the press voluntarily submitted to its own censorship and withheld information that could be of possible aid or comfort to the enemy. The "cold war" is in the same category. There are certain military facts and intelligence operations that ought to be kept secret.

The television program this week gave to many viewers the impression that the CIA operates entirely on its own, that there is no restraint or check upon its operations, and that it is therefore virtually irresponsible. But as Allen Dulles, former director of the CIA, said in an all-too-brief rebuttal on that program, there are four committees of Congress—two in the House and two in the Senate—to which the CIA reports regularly and answers any questions that the legislators ask.

The President also is kept fully informed and has his own intelligence advisory board. No move of any importance is taken without the knowledge of both the President and Congressional committees.

Nothing is, however, published. The committee hearings are secret. Both Republicans and Democrats have maintained silence about these sessions because they have thought it was the patriotic thing to do. The CIA itself does not engage in public discussion, even to defend itself.

This is why a television program which gives an erroneous impression to the American people and implies that the CIA is an irresponsible and immoral agency is an unfortunate occurrence.

The CIA is necessarily a secret operation. Its personnel abroad is not large, but its influence is great. It has a substantial sum of money at its disposal to use in the best interests of this country in fighting the "cold war." The press would certainly not wish to divulge the nature of military plans during a "hot war," and there is equal reason for withholding the details of the operations of the CIA in the "cold war."

So long as Congress has access to full information about the CIA, and is able to keep in close touch with what is going on, the interests of the American people will be protected against improper use of money and personnel. Under both Republican and Democratic administrations, the CIA has succeeded in making effective use of its resources in the "cold war."

The American government, both directly and indirectly, does all in its power, by propaganda and otherwise, to discourage people in other countries from falling victim to Communist infiltration. It will continue to carry on this fight because it is one of the most important phases of the "cold war." To insist, however, that the CIA should make its operations public is comparable to a demand that this country make available to the enemy the secrets of its atomic arsenal and strategic plans.

Winning a "cold war" can avert a "hot war," and that is why the part which the CIA plays in helping to spare the United States the holocaust of a "hot war" is of the utmost importance in American life today.

Only Single Girl Among 10,000 Men

Belle of Da Nang Not Interested in Romance

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — To airmen and Marines she's "the belle of Da Nang."

Miss Betty Olsen, 30, a medical missionary, takes the nickname as a pleasant joke.

"I think I'm the only single girl here," she said, "but there are a number of married women in our mission."

Many an American girl would think it a dream situation to be the only girl amid 10,000 men. But Betty, who is tall and slender and has auburn hair and green eyes, is more amused than thrilled.

Every Saturday morning she serves as a volunteer worker at the USO building in the heart of the city. Many of the men have asked for a date, but each has met with a refusal.

"They are all nice and polite," said Miss Olsen. "If they want to be friends, that's fine. But I don't date them. I am not interested in romance, and I have no idea of getting married."

She is a deeply religious woman whose goal since childhood has been to do medical missionary work abroad. She was born in Africa and both her parents are missionaries stationed there on the Ivory Coast.

Betty was educated at the New York Missionary College and studied nursing at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn. She was sent here last December by the Christian and Missionary Alliance which has 900 missionaries in 24 foreign countries.

"I spend most of my time learning the language — a new missionary always does that the first year," Betty said. But she also attends six religious meetings weekly and spends two nights a week teaching English to a group of 60 Vietnamese.

"Most of them are teen-agers but a few are older," she said.

"They are very interested and eager to learn."

"They are particularly curious about America. I told them about the skyscrapers and the subways but I am afraid they didn't understand subways or why anyone would want them."

"The Vietnamese people I have met are very friendly to Americans and say they are glad our men are here."

Although she gets a little homesick, Betty plans on spending her life in Viet Nam. She hopes after further study to take a post in a leprosy hospital in the interior. At present, however, that area is still largely controlled by the Viet Cong enemy. Asked if she ever felt uneasy at being in a war zone, Betty looked surprised, as if the thought of danger had never occurred to her.

"God called me to be a missionary," she said simply. "I have no fear, because I know I am in the center of God's will."

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Mahol DePuy—Telephone AL 6-7719

Vols Present New Slate; Village Budget Approved

NEW PALTZ—At the recent meeting of the New Paltz Village Board, Peter Savago reported on the Fire Department, and named the new slate of officers.

They are: Chief, August Martin; first assistant, James Ashton; second assistant, Peter Savago; foreman, Robert DuBois; first assistant foreman, Bruce Ashton; second assistant foreman, Gary Upright.

The resignation of Robert G. DuBois was accepted with regret. Mr. DuBois, having been promoted by the Telephone Company and transferred to Albany, resigned as one of the trustees. Retiring Fire Chief Peter Savago was thanked by the Village Board for his dedication to the fire department during his term of office.

Wesley VanVleet submitted the only bid to supply the village with a police car. His bid was accepted at the rate of $150 a month for a four-door 1965 Pontiac which will be equipped as specified by the board. Mr. VanVleet will service and maintain the car for two years under the contract, and the village is to furnish the gas. Delivery is expected by June 1.

A request for a contribution from the high school basketball

Championship Committee for the purchase of a jacket was tabled as the village board is prohibited by law from making contributions of the taxpayer's money. The board voted to accept the village budget of $266,895.68. Wiltur Fredenburgh was instructed to get in touch with the Bureau of Census to determine the amount of state aid now due the village since the recent census shows a gain in population.

Mayor Henry DuBois reported that since the resignation of two of the police officers, the remaining three has been doing overtime duty to give around-the-clock protection.

Also approved by the board was the suggestion that a new flag be purchased for the village.

The board accepted the invitation of the American Legion Post No. 176 of New Paltz to participate in the Memorial Day Parade.

Bill on Water Pollution Must Wait for Voters

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has in hand today the legislative machinery for his program against water pollution, but he must wait until November to see if voters will supply money for the work.

The Democratic-controlled Legislature Wednesday gave swift and unanimous backing to the six-year, anti-pollution program, which calls for spending $1.7 billion to cleanse New York State waterways.

Under the legislation, certain to be signed by Rockefeller, voters will be asked in the November election to authorize a $1-billion bond issue.

The bond money would increase state aid for communities constructing sewage-treatment plants. Localities would pay 40 per cent of the costs, accounting for the remaining $700 million in expenditures.

Federal help envisioned by Rockefeller would reimburse the state for some of the bond-issue funds.

In other legislative activity at the Capitol: — Senators approved, 38-19, a bill to set a minimum annual salary of $6,000 by 1969 for municipal policemen and firemen who have at least three years' experience. The measure was routed to the Assembly. Sen. George R. Metcalf, R-Auburn, contended that minimum pay of such employees should be left to communities.

— The Assembly supported and sent to the Senate a measure to authorize communities to exempt new industries from property taxes for up to five years.

A bill to allow persons accused of traffic violations to enter pleas of innocent by mail was approved by the Senate and sent to the Assembly.

— In a show of hands, the Assembly rejected a Democratic measure to require persons between 18 and 21 to show state-issued identification cards when they purchased alcoholic beverages. The measure would have authorized the state health department to issue the cards.

Existing anti-pollution legislation provides for state payment of up to 75 per cent of the costs of planning treatment facilities but does not provide financial help for construction.

Besides aiding construction, the governor's program would: — Provide state payment of up to 30 per cent of the annual operating costs of a new treatment facility.

— Grant property tax exemptions to industries that construct sewage-treatment facilities.

— Allow industries to write-off on their state corporate income taxes costs of constructing sewage facilities.

ICCE Sets Up Study Groups; Hears Reports

At the recent meeting of the Independent Citizen's Committee on Education held at the New Paltz High School, three committees were set up: One to study the distribution of school population in the district, headed by Walter Paradies; one to investigate possible sites for a new high school, headed by William Robert Jansen with Robert Johnston and Selden Spencer; and one to study the need for more classrooms, with Mrs. Bennett Bradt and Joseph Di Bianca on the committee.

Mrs. John H. Jacobson, president, presided at the meeting. Robert Reid, a member of the school board, told the ICCE that the board had not closed their minds to a site for a new high school and that several were under consideration. Harry Cornwell, another member of the board was also present.

College Growth Report
George J. Smith, representative from the college to the ICCE presented an estimate of the college's growth in the next few years. He said that now approximately 3,209 full time students, most of them graduate and special students; that 800 freshmen will enter in September; that by 1970 there will be 4,500 full time students. The present faculty and staff of 616 is expected to increase to 750 by 1970. He distributed a map of the college showing when new dormitories and buildings will be constructed. An administration building, humanities - social science building, lecture center, library, two dormitories, and a dining hall are scheduled for construction this year. Scheduled for 1966 are three dormitories and an infirmary. Other buildings to be constructed include a women's gymnasium in 1968.

Thomas Benenati, guidance director for the Central School, had been asked by the ICCE to explain the business offerings of the high school. He said they were small because about 70 per cent of the graduates go on to institutions of higher learning. He said he felt the business program was adequate and he outlined the two classrooms he hopes will be available in the new high school. The meeting was held in one of the present business rooms so ICCE members could see what it was like. This year less than ten per cent of the students are business majors.

Central School Needs
Frederick C. Dippel, supervising principal, in discussing the projected increase in enrollment and the need for more classrooms pointed out that the population of the Town of New Paltz has increased 31.5 per cent since 1960 and over 1,000 apartment units have been approved for construction. Classrooms are already overcrowded with as many as 34 in a class, and figures based on a minimum of five per cent increase in a year would bring 200 more students into the central school by September, 1967.

Mr. Dippel said, "If we do not start building right away, the situation will get progressively worse. We will either have to have split sessions which we consider very undesirable or portable classrooms which are very expensive."

The school had to curtail the junior high art program this year from 20 to 10 weeks and next year the junior high shop and homemaking programs will have to be similarly curtailed. Among the facilities needed are a larger library, laboratory facilities in the science classrooms, more lockers, more storage space, a lecture room that would hold 100 students and a larger business office.

The next meeting of the ICCE will be held May 19 at the central school. There will be a tour of the present high school before the meeting.

Amendments to the by-laws meeting will be voted on at the next meeting.

Others present at the meeting were Mrs. Richard Hathaway, Mrs. Joseph Linacre, Mrs. Martin Binninger, Mrs. Kenneth Dur-yea, Mrs. Richard Redfern, George Burchell and Jack Erman.

Contracts Let For Four-Room Duzine Addition

The New Paltz School Board has awarded contracts totaling $60,826 for the four - room addition to the Duzine Elementary School. After the architect's fee is included in the cost, there will be $525 not allocated of the $65,000 bond issue approved by the voters.

The bids are as follows: general contract, Neuss Construction Company of Newburgh, builders of the original school, $47,726; E.R.A. Electric Company of Kingston, the electrical contract, $4,400; plumbing contract for $2,000 and the heating and ventilating contract for $7,000 to Baron Brothers of Newburgh.

The New Paltz School Board has scheduled Tuesday, June 1, at 8 p. m. for a public hearing on the proposed new high school. The hearing will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

"Ralph, what's the story on this stepped-up infiltration by Communists from the North?"

Consumer Dangles, Victim of Economy

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—By turns pitied, pampered and praised, the consumer today is at once the darling of the economy and, some say, the victim.

Never before have so many economists looked so hard to find out what the consumer is going to do next with his money. Businessmen spend half a billion dollars a year just to try to learn who's going to buy what and when.

Choice Dictates Production

For it's the consumer's choice that dictates what most of the factories of the nation produce. Critics of the system, however, argue that never before has it been so hard for the consumer to make an intelligent choice among competing goods.

Sheer abundance creates its own problems. Cheap goods sometimes drive out quality goods. Consumers are bombarded with advertising for competing products. Not everyone has the special, technical knowledge that can permit him to say with assurance he's bought the best value in an appliance or an automobile or a suit.

Many consumers vote and many politicians, well aware of this, launch campaigns on their behalf. In Washington, the Senate Commerce Committee has begun hearings on a "truth in packaging" bill. The National Commission on Food Marketing, established by Congress at the suggestion of President Johnson, is taking testimony on a seven-city schedule.

Whether the consumer can or does spend his money intelligently, one thing is certain: He's a bigger spender and his ranks are growing rapidly.

Consumption Growing

Economists at the National Industrial Conference Board estimate that although the population in 1975 will be only 20 per cent bigger, the level of consumption will be 50 per cent bigger.

Every year about a million families move into the $10,000-plus bracket of income. By economists' standards, this gives them more than they need for minimum food, clothing and shelter.

Their "discretionary income," the amount spent on nonessentials, increases and this is the spending that has triggered whole new luxury industries, such as boating and high-fidelity radio-phonograph equipment.

And by 1975, says the board, the $10,000-plus group of families probably will grow from 25 per cent to 40 per cent of the population and its spending will account for 66 per cent of all consumer purchases.

Foresaw No Disaster for Expanding Reich

Early Peacetime Conquests Paved Hitler's Way to Grim 6-Year War

EDITORS'S NOTE — The following, third of four articles on the rise and fall of Nazi Germany 20 years ago, tells of Hitler's early military success.

By JOHN BAUSMAN
BERLIN (AP) — Adolf Hitler had scored a diplomatic victory at Munich in 1938. It paved the way for his occupation of all of Czechoslovakia in March of 1939.

And eight days later, in a little-remembered land grab, he annexed a small chunk of Lithuania to German East Prussia.

Mocked Caution Appeals
These were his last peacetime conquests. The next victim was to be Poland and this step launched the grim six-year war that ended just 20 years ago in the collapse of Hitlerite Germany.

But Hitler, rising with heavy speed to the peak of his power, foresaw no disaster for the expanding, thousand-year Reich. He could allow himself to mock the British, French and Americans and the appeals for caution and peace which were addressed to him.

He advised his chief lieutenants that the next step would bring war and he busied himself through the summer with plans to invade Poland.

The Nazi target for the Polish invasion was the end of summer, but not until Aug. 23 did Hitler finally achieve the device that was to spare him for a time a two-front war — the German Soviet pact.

Playing on Soviet distrust of England and France, Hitler got Joseph Stalin to agree to a 10-year treaty to split up Poland and divide interests in Eastern Europe. The pact was destined to be broken by the German leader in less than two years.

Staged Fake Raid
To trigger the war on Sept. 1, Hitler had his trusted bodyguard organization, the SS, stage a fake Polish attack against the German radio station at Gleiwitz. Later that morning he solemnly told the Reichstag that the Poles had fired on German territory and the Germans were returning the fire.

Poised German forces rolled in strength across the Polish frontier. War had started. It quickly spread and became World War II with the entry of Britain and France on Sept. 3. The Germans speedily overran Poland.

It was the first taste of the Nazi blitzkrieg, the meticulously planned and carefully coordinated strikes of air power and tanks that cut with spear-like thrusts.

With Poland defeated, the war settled down to an eerie, unreal standstill. The German dictator had rightly guessed that Britain and France would cause little trouble in the West.

For his eventual war against the Soviet Union and the sea battle against England, Hitler needed to secure his Scandinavian flank and decided that Denmark and Norway should be taken before the major engagement in the West.

Danes Yielded Flank
Early in the morning of April 9, 1940, with German troops already embarked, Hitler's obedient foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, had his envoys in Copenhagen and Oslo present brazen demands that these governments accept immediately "the protection of the Reich." The Danes, unable to put up armed resistance against their giant neighbor, yielded.

France Unprepared
The Norwegians held out and with British and French support fought the Nazis off in the north. The Nazi attack against France in the meantime, forced the Allies to withdraw their help and the Norwegians surrendered on June 12. Hitler had chalked up another "glorious" victory.

By now his war in the West was virtually won and was following the most optimistic blitzkrieg timetable. Holland and Belgium were the first victims.

France was totally unprepared to meet the wily strategy of the blitzkrieg. Her troops, strung out in the defensive Maginot Line, were encircled. Her bickering politicians were divided. On June 14, Germans flushed with victory entered Paris and on June 22 the armistice with France was signed.

Behind the dazzling front of victories, however, the Nazis already were busy with cruel and heartless work.

'Pain of Living'
On June 14, the day the Germans entered Paris, the Nazis officially opened at Auschwitz in southern Poland a new concentration camp, destined to become the monstrous death factory where millions of human beings were slaughtered.

Occupied Europe was experiencing the pain of living under the Nazi "new order."

Next: The downfall.

All Rolled in Rug
NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Police rolled out the carpet to catch a burglary suspect.

After receiving word Wednesday of a burglary, two officers chased a man from the second floor into the attic of a house.

When they entered, the attic was empty except for a dusty carpet rolled up in a corner.

Detecting a bulge in the rug, the officers unrolled it. The bulge, police said, was Donald Wilson, 19. He was charged with breaking and entering.

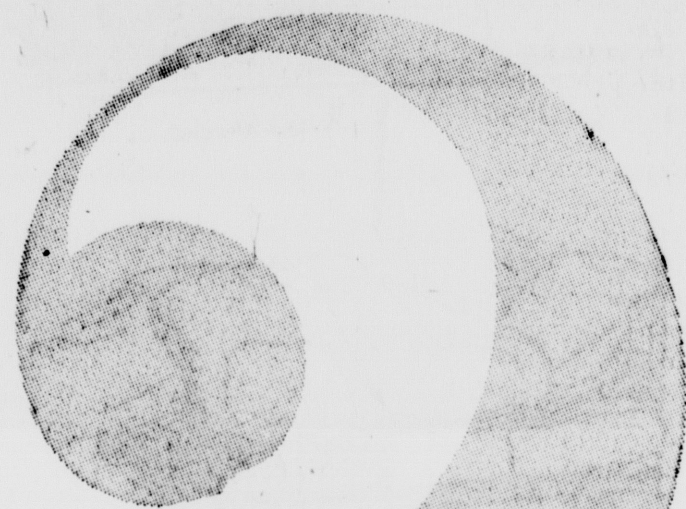

THEN AND NOW—Out of Mississippi in 1958 came a wholesome, freckle-faced youngster named Mary Ann Mobley. Her talent, personality and dazzling smile carried Mary Ann to the pinnacle of all beauty contest aspirants—Miss America 1959, at left. Now, seven years later, Mary Ann shows great promise as an actress. More beautiful these days, if possible, she appears more mature, right, with an acquired sultry-eyed look which is having the desired impact on film fans. Beneath the Hollywood facade, however, Mary Ann says: "I see the real me—freckles and all."

Injured in Collision

Vivian Legac, 42, of Groff Street, said she would see her doctor for treatment of whiplash injury suffered in a two-car collision shortly before 10 a. m. Wednesday on Albany Avenue near the Grand Union. Patrolmen James Scott and Junior Harris said her car was in collision with one driven by Agnes Schaefer, 76, of Haines Falls.

Report From Shenyang:

Better Living Conditions In China's Industrial Areas

EDITOR'S NOTE — Charles Lynch is one of three Canadian reporters currently permitted to operate in China — U.S. reporters are barred from the country. This is one of his dispatches filed to the Southern newspapers of Canada.

By CHARLES LYNCH
SHENYANG (Mukden), China (AP) — The easiest way to locate this place is to say that had MacArthur bombed across the Yalu River during the Korean War, this is where his planes would have headed.

Shenyang is the capital of Liaoning Province, the traditional industrial area of China, still going strong but now rivaled by the new industrial centers springing up all over this burgeoning land.

The Japanese used Shenyang as their headquarters during their 14-year occupation of Manchuria, when they set up the puppet Manchukuo empire here. The city once was known as Mukden, but that name has Christian overtones that the Chinese do not care to remember.

This was the jumping-off point for Japanese incursions into the rest of China, and much later, it was the jumping-off point in the other direction for the Chinese troops on their way to the Korean War.

Changes Manifest
Our hotel, built in 1925 in the old European fashion, used to be known as the Ta Ho — now, it's the Liaoning. Nothing about the hotel has changed, but the changes in Shenyang are manifold.

Not that they've altered the Old City, the palaces and tombs of the Manchus who first set up shop here in 1644, subsequently moved to Peking, and who ruled China until 1912. The city itself is said to date back 1,800 years, but to its present occupants, it is 16 years old — dating, as almost everything else in China does, from the Communist "liberation."

The "cathedral" of Shenyang is the industrial exhibition hall, built in 1959, filled with machines of a complexity that gratify the Chinese mind, and all made by Chinese hands.

Among the good things of the old China, it is generally agreed, good housing for workers and peasants was definitely not included. And it is in this area that the new Shenyang is most impressive, since it includes four vast workers' villages.

Advances in Housing
Here, tens of thousands of industrial workers are housed in conditions that rival anything similar in Asia. North American standards do not apply, and the Chinese make no such claim — but the leap from the old housing to the new is a great leap forward, indeed.

The apartment buildings, three stories high, stretch for blocks in every direction. I picked a doorway at random and found myself the guest of Ten Shichan, who earns $10 a month as a leading worker at the Shenyang metallurgical machinery factory.

The welcome was warm. The living quarters were Spartan but neat. One room serves as living room, dining room and bedroom for Ten, his wife, and their four children — the parents in one broad bed, the children, aged up to 12 years, in the other. The beds, covered with straw matting, become part of the living space by day, in the Chinese fashion.

Better Living
And in the Chinese fashion, this was living — gas burners in the kitchen, an electric light bulb, a radio, a clock, and a bicycle. The rent is $1.20 a month. Across the street is the department store where eggs are three cents apiece, cabbage five cents each, and pork is 35 cents a pound. Strong drink is $1.10 a bottle, but canned fruit costs 50

Two Suspects Are Facing Murder 1st In Bank Slaying

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Two of the four Canadian suspects in a March bank robbery and slaying are in the Clinton County jail today, facing first-degree murder charges.

Guy Beaudet, 32, of Montreal, who waived extradition proceedings, joined Albert Couture, 36, also of Montreal, in the county jail Wednesday night.

Both are held without bail, pending grand jury action.

Couture was arrested in the United States, but Beaudet was apprehended in Canada. Beaudet was turned over to U.S. authorities Wednesday.

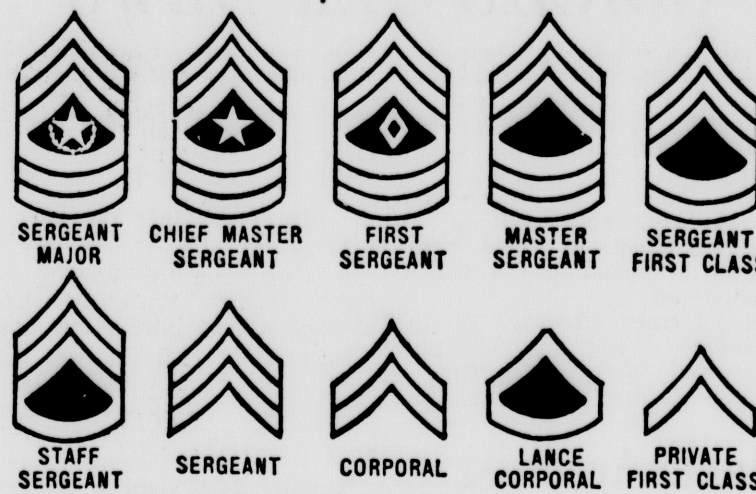

State Police say the two were members of the gang that robbed an Ellensburg Depot bank March 22, slaying bank teller Roy Dominv, 53, before they fled with $5,000. Still sought in the crime are Willie DePuis and Rene Pilon, both of Montreal.

cents a can and rates as a special treat for the kids. Refrigeration is no problem — the Chinese housewife shops on a meal-by-meal basis, and likes it that way.

The only unhappy faces I've seen here are those of the rickshaw men but they, I am told, are not unhappy—they are just concentrating on their work, secure in the knowledge that "there's a motor in their future," somewhere up ahead.

... and Don't Bite 'em

Clean fingernails with an orange stick rather than a file. A metal file damages the underside of the nail. When washing hands, scrub nails with a brush. Use a buffer to improve circulation and make the nail pinker. Buff in one direction only or you may set up friction that will erode the nail.

THE ARMY GAME—Effective Sept. 1 the Army will have a new look in insignias for enlisted men. The new lance corporal will fit between private first class and corporal, drawing E-3 pay. The present private first class rating, now drawing E-3 pay, will be dropped to E-2. The new top grade of sergeant major is being added. The insignia will have a wreath partly surrounding the star of the master sergeant's insignia. Every soldier except the lowest private or recruit will have a sleeve insignia as a result of the changes.

Passing Out Maps Showing Cuba's Training Camps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A map of Cuba pinpointing 13 purported Communist training camps for subversives was distributed today by Revolutionary Unity, a Cuban exile organization.

Described as a training site for Dominican revolutionaries was the Minas de Frio camp in easternmost Oriente Province, nearest to the Dominican Republic.

The exile group said Dominicans also were reported to have trained at a camp near Trinidad, on the southern coast of central Cuba. It said Central Americans, Haitians and British Guianese also drilled there.

Fatal Car Crash

Compitello of Whitehall was killed Wednesday when her automobile crashed into a tree near this Washington County community.

In addition, the committee approved $20 million for use by the General Services Administration in acquiring sites and providing designs for 20 buildings in 15 states and the District of Columbia.

The funds were included in a bill carrying appropriations for various independent agencies. Construction funds—which are in addition to site funds previously voted—were included in the New York, Rochester, court-house office building, $7,277,000.

6,000 Demonstrate, 13 Hurt

Ave Notes Red Threat In Visit to Uruguay

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Six thousand students demonstrating U.S. action in the Dominican Republic hurled fire bombs at police outside the Argentine Congress Wednesday night in an hour-long battle that left at least 13 injured.

Demonstrations also flared in Venezuela, Colombia, Peru and Chile.

Reds Tied to Violence

Most of the Argentine demonstrators were leftist students, but police said Communists joined in and touched off the violence.

Chanting anti-Yankee slogans, the mob hurled incendiary bombs and rocks at mounted police, smashed shop windows and set chairs and tables ablaze in sidewalk cafes.

One report said the rioters wrecked 10 cars including the limousine of Vice President Carlos Perette, en route from the Senate to his residence in the Savoy Hotel. Demonstrators also smashed in the Savoy's glass front.

Federal Police Chief Nicolas Rodriguez said the students had been given permission to demonstrate, but that Communists set off the violence.

Police moved in with pressure hoses and blanketed the area outside the Congress with tear gas.

A group of congressmen from the pro-Peron Justicial party condemned the visit of W. Averill Harriman, President Johnson's envoy touring Latin America to explain the U.S. action in the Dominican Republic.

Harriman went on to Uruguay Wednesday night. He told newsmen that Communists are trying to touch off a hemisphere war through strife in six Latin American countries—Venezuela, Colombia, Haiti, Paraguay, Honduras and Guatemala.

U.S. Embassy Hit

In Caracas, Venezuela, terrorists sprayed the U.S. Embassy with machine-gun fire, narrowly missing several staff members. The bullets broke 17 windows but no one was injured.

An embassy spokesman said two men and a woman opened fire from about a block away, then fled in a taxi before embassy guards had a chance to return the fire.

In Santiago, Chile, hundreds of university students demonstrated in front of the U.S. Consulate. Three policemen were injured by rocks, and four youths were arrested.

Blame Arsonist For Guard Fire

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A fire apparently set by an arsonist destroyed 15 military vehicles at the National Guard Armory Wednesday night.

Guardsmen saved more than a hundred other trucks, some of which were afire, when they rushed onto the field and drove them away from the flames and exploding gas tanks. There were no injuries.

Two eyewitnesses saw a man climb an eight-foot chain link fence with a container under his arm shortly before the fire started, according to a Guard spokesman.

Col. K. C. Bullard, commander at the Ft. Homer Hesterly Armory, estimated the loss "in excess of $100,000."

Occupants Unhurt

Occupants of two cars escaped injury Wednesday when one car stopped for a school bus and the following car failed to stop in time. State police at Ellenville report that at 8:45 a. m. Rose E. Reynolds, 64, of Route 1, Kerhonkson, stopped her car in the north lane on Route 209 about three miles south of the intersection of Route 213 for a stopped school bus. William E. Wendland, 64, of High Street, Nanapanoch, struck the Reynolds car in the rear. Trooper Wayne Lawrence investigated. There was no arrest.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — State Rep. Robert Breslin Jr. has filed a bill to limit the number of doorkeepers and pages in the Rhode Island Legislature. At present there are 126 lawmakers, and 78 doorkeepers and 95 pages. The Senate chamber has five doors and the House six. Breslin's measure, introduced Wednesday, would limit the number to 13 doorkeepers and 21 pages at an estimated saving of $61,800 in salaries at each session.

Con-Ed Denies Lines Would Be Expansion Step

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consolidated Edison Co. officials say no "widespread" acquisition of property would result from power transmitting lines from a proposed hydroelectric plant along the Hudson River to New York City.

The Federal Power Commission, which has approved plans for the company's $160 million project at Storm King Mountain near Cornwall, N.Y., is conducting a hearing into routes for overhead transmission lines.

The session continued today with the prospect that the power company would say what route it desired for transmitting power from a switching station at Nelsonville to Millwood in Westchester County.

At Millwood, the overhead route would hookup with lines to New York City.

In testimony Wednesday, M. L. Waring, Con Ed Senior Vice President, argued against reports that the overhead transmission lines now under discussion were just the first step in a large expansion of such lines throughout Westchester, Dutchess and Putnam Counties.

Some Areas Are Bypassed in Dem Reapportionment Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — At least three cities and several towns throughout the state are missing from the Democratic plan for establishing Assembly representation.

The towns not mentioned in the proposed reapportionment plan include Wilson, in Niagara County; Mechanicville, Saratoga County; or Dunkirk, Chautauque County.

Republican State Committee reapportionment specialists, who poured over the Democratic offering, also reported, somewhat gleefully, that the plan overlooked parts of Delaware, Cattaraugus, Oneida, Schuyler and Chemung Counties.

One Republican noted that three towns had been dropped from Schuyler — population 15,000 — and commented, "when you lose three towns there, you don't have much left."

Brydges' home town of Wilson was among five towns missing from the description of Niagara County districts.

Republicans also complained of such drafting as having the 112th district run from the northern boundary of Hamilton County in the upper Adirondacks to within 20 miles of the Delaware River near the Pennsylvania border.

One for the Road?

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A trailer truck's load shifted at a slight downgrade and 1,900 cans of beer spilled onto the intersection.

Before the driver could stop, motorists and pedestrians scooped up all the beer and fled. "I thought they were going to help salvage the load," Edmund Vandercaster, Jr., said Wednesday. "But by the time I got the truck out of the line of traffic, there was nothing left to salvage."

WORLD WAR TWO: The "jumping off place" was a common expression during World War II as an airbase from which planes could be sent to attack the enemy. But the expression started about the time of Columbus. It was foretold that he would reach the "jumping off place" on the earth and then fall into "hellfire."

Syracuse Termed Just Another Miss. Backyard

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Southern Negroes, protesting "northern hypocrisy" in race relations, pictured Syracuse as "just another backyard of Mississippi" and told a rally "We came here to help you."

Lead 7-Block Parade

The 22 bus riders from Alabama and Mississippi arrived in Upstate New York Wednesday in time to lead a seven-block parade to a demonstration where they joined James Farmer, leader of the Congress of Racial Equality.

The visitors plan a 10-day to two-week stay in Syracuse and will join in demonstrations, including picketing today.

At the rally Wednesday night, Farmer promised more "freedom rides in reverse." He told a cheering crowd, estimated at 1,500:

"We will ride in the North and in the South. We will ride in the East and in the West. We will march and we will walk until justice is done."

Mrs. Fannie Lou Hamer of Ruleville, Miss., a member of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party, set the theme for the ride to Syracuse:

'Full of Hypocrisy'

"You're not free in Syracuse until we are free in Mississippi. It's so full of hypocrisy here. They're doing the same as down there. Syracuse is just another backyard of Mississippi."

The only incident occurred when a white youth, after Farmer's introduction, yelled from in front of the platform: "Isn't anyone going to speak up for the white people?"

After the demonstration, the bus-riders went to a service in the AME Zion Church and then to a public hearing on proposals to eliminate de facto segregation in Syracuse schools by transporting students on buses. The freedom riders will stay in area homes during their days in Syracuse.

Alaska's reindeer population (which was about 250,000 in 1900) now numbers less than 30,000 head, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Debate on Medicare Triggers Highly Charged Arguments by Three Experts at Demos Club

"Health in our country is a purchasable commodity and only those who can afford it have it," said the pro-Medicare speaker.

"The people of the country simply are not well informed about what is in the Medicare legislation and or what the alternatives might be. Federal controls are not compatible with good medicine and will dilute the quality of medical care," countered the anti-Medicare speaker.

"We must strike a middle ground which may or may not be represented by this bill. Personally, I feel the next five years will represent a tremendous trial for this country. MA has not always represented the most typical physician and I hope we see more contribution instead of opposition on their part," observed the moderator.

These are examples of the hard hitting opinions expressed by three members of a tremendously enlightening panel in a Medicare debate at the monthly meeting of the Woodstock Democratic Club at Deane's.

Worked Under Kennedy
Defending the Medicare legislation was Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn of Hudson, who served under President Kennedy on the Physicians Committee for Health Care for the Aged. He flew in from Detroit for the occasion.

Dr. George J. Lawrence of Flushing, one of the guiding lights of the New York State Medical Society, opposed Medicare and supported ElderCare. The moderator was Dr. Norman Burg of Woodstock.

Dr. Esselstyn, a staunch advocate of Medicare set the pace for the evening in his opening statement: "This is a moral issue concerning each and every one of us and not a political one."

"It is an issue relating to the values we have in this country. Is the worth of the health of every man, woman and child we have worthy of vital concern?" he asked. He said he wanted for the United States the healthiest citizenry in the world, all receiving the best medical care available. He maintained that we do not have this now, since we do not have the longevity record or the lowest, maternal and infant mortality rates.

"Furthermore," he continued, "150,000 lives will be lost this year and 1,000,000 needless disabilities will take place because known techniques are not being applied."

Supporting Arguments
After his remark on health as a purchasable commodity, Dr. Esselstyn, almost in anger, asked:

"Why Medicare now? Because the history of government in the United States in medicine is one which shows that, if and when in the judgment of society there has been a disparity in the ability of certain people to pay for their care, the government has stepped in to fill the vacuum."
"Not so strange," he added, "since the government is already in many areas of medicine, including mental health, tuberculosis, drug addiction, leprosy."

Hospital-Proved Tablet Brings 100% SAFE SLEEP*

If you can't sleep because of simple nervous tension, restlessness or over-work—try SOMINEX, the modern aid to sleep. Taken as directed, SOMINEX brings 100% safe sleep. SOMINEX was tested in three leading hospitals, among hundreds of private patients and proved wonderfully effective. SOMINEX contains no barbiturates, no bromides, no narcotics. Not habit-forming.

etc. Indeed, 52 per cent of the medical schools are tax supported and 75 per cent of all research is subsidized."

It is nothing new, then, to have government come into medicine, observed Dr. Esselstyn. "But the only time it moves in is if and when in your judgment there is a need. That need exists now in providing care for the aged, which is a rapidly growing group, composed more of women than men, with half of the widows living today over 75."

There is no question about the need, maintained Dr. Esselstyn, who feels insurance coverage held by the aged means little. "Is somebody covered who has a $5 contribution towards a $40 a day hospital room or are they shaded?" he asked. In addition, cost of care is going up steadily, he said, and will increase 7-8 per cent a year for the next 10 years.

Stresses High Costs
Stressing the angle of lack of public knowledge, Dr. Lawrence said that a recent poll showed 60 per cent of the populace queried knew nothing about Medicare. He pointed to the high cost of implementing the program, said it will require 2.3 billion dollars to finance the first year alone. He prophesied that tax increases are inevitable in order to pay for Medicare and predicted that by 1967 employers and employees would be paying $369 a year for Social Security, and the self-employed $5.4.

Payments to physicians under the program will cost $840 million to $1.12 billion in the first year, according to Dr. Lawrence.

Dr. Lawrence and his colleagues in the AMA advocate ElderCare believe it will help older citizens while preserving for all persons the high standard and quality of our present health system. In this program, government would match state funds for those individuals who fall below the maximum limits.

Favors Kerr-Mills
Dr. Lawrence feels the Kerr-Mills bill which has been in effect since the Depression and was written with AMA's help (and which is ElderCare with a few amendments) answers the country's problems for the best medical care possible, better than Medicare.

In rebuttal, Dr. Lawrence attacked an argument by Dr. Esselstyn that Kerr-Mills is nothing more than an extension welfare. "Not so," he said. "It takes care of those people who are able to take care of themselves while helping many older people to meet serious illness expenses and pay for catastrophic types of sickness. These are not welfare people, he said and Kerr-Mills has much in its favor that is not expensive. "Any program aimed at helping only those who need help is less expensive," he said.

Rebutting Dr. Esselstyn's argument to anger Dr. Lawrence by suggesting that Medicare could be a better bill with help from organized medicine.
"If the millions spent on medicine to defeat this legislation had been spent trying to make it better and the energy working against it had been put into creating a more positive bill, values and not costs would be placed in their proper proportions," he charged.

"This wealthy country should not depend on charity medicine," said Dr. Esselstyn, "and political pressures have made the Medicare bill not as good as it could be."

Prohibitive Costs
A tenacious moderator, Dr. Burg's probing questions kept both debaters lashing out at each other. The Woodstock doctor observed that the cost of medical care today is an abuse and prohibitive; and is getting more and more out of reach of people of advancing years.

"If government had taken a strong interest earlier, abuses on the part of individuals seeking care would not have occurred," he said. "I feel that under the current legislation, the solution for the aged has not been answered. Doctor-patient relationships will suffer, but there are people who need care and will not get it otherwise."

Peter P. Grad of the Democratic Club introduced the panel members. Chairman of the program was Charles Mason.

Trip to the Fair, Rummage Sale on Company 3 Slate

A bus trip to the World's Fair, the annual rummage sale, and election of officers were on the agenda of the monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3, held at the firehouse in Lake Hill.

On Saturday, June 5, a bus trip to the World's Fair will be sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary. The bus will leave the Village Green in Woodstock at 8 a. m. and leave the fair at 8 p. m. Reservations are now being accepted by Mrs. Alfred Ostrander of Willow.

The annual rummage sale is set for Saturday, July 3, at the firehouse in Lake Hill. Mrs. Walter Stone is general chairman of the sale, with Mrs. Hugh Martin in charge of the food sale which will be held in conjunction with the rummage sale. Rummage for the sale may be left at the firehouse in Lake Hill, by contacting Mrs. Stone by telephone.

Annual Election
The annual election of officers will be held at the next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, May 25, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Walter Stone and Mrs. Louis Kolbe will be the refreshment committee for that evening.

Other business for the evening included an investigation of the tables for the firehouse. A committee was appointed to ascertain sizes and prices of folding tables that could be used in the firehouse for meetings.

Any woman desiring to join the Ladies Auxiliary is invited to attend the next meeting on May 25. It is not necessary to have any member of the family an active fireman, for a woman belong to the Ladies Auxiliary, stated the Auxiliary president.

Performing Arts Slates Antigone

Performing Arts of Woodstock has announced it will present Antigone, a contemporary French play by Jean Anouilh, based on the Theban myth. The dates are June 4-5 and June 11-12. The play was originally produced in Paris in 1943.

Edith LeFever will direct the production, assisted by Gloria Criscimagna. The cast will include: Marge Denning in the title role of Antigone; Bill Burgin as Creon; Alex Osina as the chorus; Edith Barrett as Ismene.

The other roles will be played as follows: Harry Miller as Haemon; Charlotte Lyons, nurse; James Prudeux, first guard; Mitch Rappaport, second guard; Harry Miller Jr., third guard; Tony Criscimagna, messenger; Jonathan Hubbell, page; Marilyn God-

MEDICARE PANELISTS: Members of the hard hitting panel which debated the pros and cons of Medicare at the Woodstock Democratic Club. From the left: Dr. George J. Lawrence, legislative representative of the New York State Medical Society, who opposed the plan; Dr. Norman Burg, Woodstock, moderator; and Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn, of Hudson, one of the nation's foremost authorities on Medicare, who supported it.

Christ Lutheran Dedicates New Fellowship Hall Sunday

Members and friends of Christ Lutheran Church will join in the observance of a historic moment in Woodstock's history Sunday.

Fittingly, as the congregation enters its 160th year of service to the new community, a new Fellowship Hall will be dedicated to the glory of God.

Dedication service will begin at 4 p. m. in the church and features an address by the Rev. Alfred L. Beck, DD, president of the New York Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

Later the congregation will proceed outdoors to the entrance of the new hall where Pastor Norman C. Krapf will dedicate the building. A bronze plaque inscribed with the words "Fellowship Hall, dedicated to the glory of God, May 9, 1965" will be unveiled.

The master key to the building will then be passed from the architect, Robert S. McCoy, to the contractor Karl Schroeder of Woodstock, who in turn will present it to Lawrence Deede, vice president of the congregation.

The public is invited to attend. Eurydice; and Pat Jacobson as the dancer.

Playreading Group
The playreading group will read and discuss "King Lear" Tuesday, May 11, at 8 p. m. at the Woodstock Artists Association on Tinker Street. John LeFever will be the evening's director.

The playreading group is open to the public. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a copy of the play, if they have one available.

tend the dedication. Refreshments will be served by the Lutheran Church women.

The two-story wooden building measures 50x26 and houses classrooms, a church office, kitchen, kitchenette and rest rooms. It has been designed for multiple use. For example, the second floor fellowship hall area will also be used for classrooms by means of room dividers.

Cost of the building is $49,859 which is being largely financed through a mortgage loan from the Rondout Savings Bank of Kingston.

Christ Lutheran congregation was formed May 6, 1806, by descendants of Palatine Germans who left their settlement on the eastern side of the Hudson River, which had been established early in the 1700's.

The first church of the congregation was located on Route 212, opposite the present Woodstock Country Club. Later the congregation moved to its present location on Mill Hill Road, where the existing church was erected in 1894.

Construction of the new Fellowship Hall started on Nov. 12, 1964, by contractor Karl Schroeder. It was designed by Robert S. McCoy and C. Norman Blair, architects of White Plains.

Avoid Hot Colors

With summer on the way, stay clear of hot shades such as red and orange. You'll not only look cool, but even feel fresher in such cool shades at blue and green.

Five cups of fine noodles yield about five and one-half cups after cooking.

Reformed Church News and Notes

"Mothers of the Spirit" will be the Mother's Day sermon theme for the Rev. Donald Edgar Hicks, B.D., minister, at the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock. Services are scheduled at 11 a. m.

The church choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Richard Braen, with Mrs. Carl Harrington at the carillon and organ. A nursery is provided for the care of small children.

Sunday school is at 9:30 a. m. Adult Bible Class and Communicants class at 9:30 a. m. Junior Christian Endeavor at 4:30 p. m.; Senior C. E. at 7:30 p. m.

Wednesday—Brownies, 4 p. m.; church bowling league 6:45 p. m.; Thursday—church choir rehearsal, 8 p. m.

Friday—"Christian Conversations" at place to be announced; Saturday—Christian Endeavor Lawn Market on the Village Green, 10 a. m.

Plan Your Buying

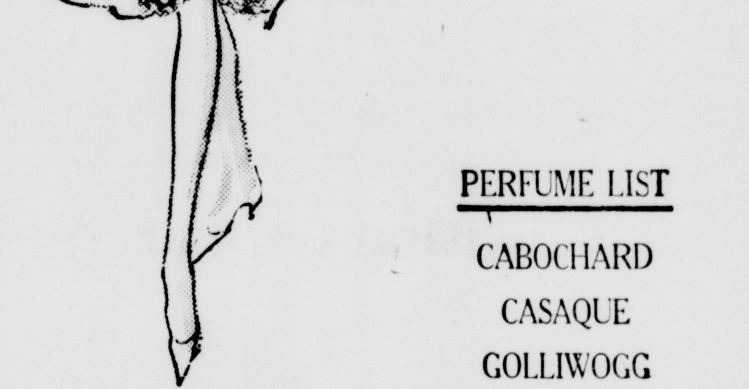

Being well-dressed requires planning, thought and careful purchasing. No on-the-run trip to a store will suffice. Planned shopping expeditions with a firm purpose of filling out your present wardrobe are necessary to achieve a chic look.

School Budget Is Rejected in Ellenville Vote

Three propositions, including the 1965-66 budget for the Ellenville Central School District, were rejected by voters on Wednesday. Three school trustees were elected and a trustee for the Ellenville Library was named.

Sol Sashin, business manager and clerk of the Board of Education, said 1,444 persons had registered and 1,441 voted yesterday.

Sashin reported the first proposition to authorize the Board of Education to expend $2,182,929 during the school year 1965-66, was turned down by a vote of 740-418. A second proposition to authorize the board to expend $9,650 for Operation Head Start, a Federal project, was defeated by a vote of 691-447, and a third proposition to authorize the board to raise taxes to support the Ellenville Public Library in the amount of $37,617 lost by a vote of 573-559.

Ben Cramer, president of the Board of Education gave no indication as to the future plans of the board regarding the district budget. The next regular meeting is scheduled for May 11, but it was said only routine matters are on the agenda.

Meyer Regenbogen, who was appointed a board member last January was elected for a three-year term by a vote of 863-478. He defeated Eugene Houck, who had previously sought a seat on the board.

Oil Drum, Not Tail

Investigation of a report that a man saw an object floating in the Hudson River near Malden, which he thought might have been the tail section of a plane, ended early this afternoon.

Trooper W. E. Wiedemann of the Kingston station, said the object was located bouncing in the river waters, by search parties. Wiedemann said it was an oil drum which apparently fell off a dredge up the river. The trooper said that four power boats from a Saugerties boat basin and a Kingston-Ulster Civil Air Patrol plane with several troopers from the local stations, had taken part in the search.

Albany Labor Trouble Hits Local Unions

The building trades shutdown affected the Albany area for some time has idled over 100 members of local unions in Ulster and Greene counties. Although the Ulster and Green locals are not involved in the Albany labor dispute, the men have been idled because of a shutdown of jobs.

George E. Yerry Jr., president of the Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters, today stated that charges of unfair labor practices are being filed with the National Labor Board for unfair labor practices charging violation of a no-strike no-lockout agreement.

Approximately 100 local men have been idled at the Marquette Cement plant at Athens where the Nicholsen Company, Inc. of New York City and Price Erecting Company of Milwaukee, Wis., have a contract.

The men have been ordered to report for work as usual each morning but have allegedly been prohibited from working because of the lockout at the job. The lockout began at the end of the day on May 3.

The situation could affect other local jobs which are being done by Albany firms. Among these jobs is the Kingston Hospital contract.

No Picketing Yet

There has been no picketing of the jobs thus far.

State mediators met all afternoon in Albany with representatives of six bricklayers locals (the only union on strike) and the Eastern New York Construction Employers Inc., (whose 250 member firms have shut up shop and locked out other trades). No results of the meeting were announced.

Albany Iron Workers Local, which already has filed unfair labor practice charges, plans to invoke arbitration proceedings of the contract today. It is planned to demand lost pay for the workers on behalf of Local 12.

Yesterday in Albany management pickets appeared on a job, picketing a management that had not closed its operations. The pickets paraded only a short time on the Washington Avenue side of the New State University campus. They protested continued operations by Foster Newman Contracting Company on the fire-delayed second dormitory cluster.

Continue Working

While members of Eastern New York Construction Employers Inc. shut down jobs, some sub-contractors not members of Eastern New York refused to be bound by its labor policy and men continued to work.

Hudson Valley District Council of Carpenters plans to hold a meeting within a few days to discuss the local situation.

Oren Long Dies

HONOLULU (AP) — Oren E. Long, 76, U.S. senator from Hawaii from 1959 to 1962, died at his home today after suffering an attack of asthmatic bronchitis.

Wilkins Is . . .

the night of March 25 after taking part in the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery and ferrying some of the marchers back to Selma.

Two Others Indicted Indicted with Wilkins — and awaiting trial — were Eugene Thomas, 42, an employee of U.S. Steel at Bessemer, Ala., and William Orville Eaton, 41, also of Bessemer.

Rowe, who said he joined the Klan at the FBI's request to get information, told the 12-man jury that he was in the car with Wilkins, Thomas and Eaton when Mrs. Luizzo was killed.

He said Wilkins used Thomas' revolver to fire two shots at almost point-blank range as their car pulled alongside her automobile in a high-speed chase and emptied his gun at the car as they pulled away.

Williams, who works at the FBI laboratory at Washington, testified that a bullet found lodged at the base of the Detroit woman's brain was fired from Thomas' gun.

Another agent told the jury that the gun used in the laboratory test came from Thomas' home, and still another said a gun permit found on Thomas was issued for the same pistol.

Williams first testified that three bullets found in the car were determined by laboratory tests to have come from the gun which Rowe had said Thomas handed to young Wilkins just before the shooting.

The defense attorney refused to accept ballistics tests as valid but the FBI witness assured him they are.

No Two Alike

When the lawyer pursued the challenge, Williams told him: "Mr. Murphy, I have made thousands of tests and I have never seen two guns make the same marking."

In cross-examining Rowe, the defense attorney asked repeatedly whether the witness himself had threatened to "kill some niggers."

Line of Questioning

That line of questioning went this way:

Q. Before going to Tuscaloosa (shortly before the University of Alabama integration in June, 1963) you made the statement that you were going to kill some niggers. Is that true?

A. No sir. That is untrue.

Then in another part of the cross examination:

Q. On the way to Selma, didn't you say continually that you hadn't come all that way for nothing, that you were going to cause some niggers some trouble?

A. No sir. Very definitely not. It was Wilkins who said that.

Murphy became so enraged that the court took a five-minute recess when Rowe accused the attorney of telling him to put out a story that the FBI had offered him land in Minnesota to cooperate with them after the Luizzo killing.

Q. I'll ask you if you didn't tell me that the FBI offered to give you 500 acres of land on a farm in Minnesota and pay you a sufficient amount to run the farm the rest of your natural life if you would cooperate and help break the back of the Klan?

A. No sir. You told me to put that story out. That's how it got out.

After Murphy had regained his composure following the recess he asked the question again.

The witness, a one time client for the Klan attorney, replied: "You asked me if they offered me large sums of money and I told you no. I told you the agent told me I could say anything I wanted to. They couldn't care less. The agent told me I could say I was offered 500 acres of land or apple trees; he couldn't care less. You came back and said, 'Well, good.' You said make it 550 acres and $160,000, I believe."

He said he would develop this plan in cooperation with other members of the board and representatives of the teachers. We are ready to cooperate now. You, Mr. Withall, failed in your personal promise. You cannot pass off this responsibility to anyone else.

"During the School Board election campaign you, Mr. Withall, told me that the attitude of the KTF was instrumental in having the Board of Education reconsider a salary proposal. The Teachers' Committee originally offered the teachers no raise. After KTF protests, the new salary schedule was adopted."

"Mr. Withall has no right to state that we refused to cooperate because we never met to discuss this problem. Mr. Withall failed to call any meetings on this matter. Mr. Withall failed to introduce the resolution that he promised us he would. Mr. Withall broke his own personal promise."

Sheppard lives with his second wife, former German divorcee Ariane Tebbenjohanns, in suburban Rocky River. When informed of Wednesday's decision he said: "I was terribly disappointed. All our hopes now lie with the U.S. Supreme Court."

Sheppard, 41, a former osteopath, married Ariane in Chicago two days after his release from prison.

If Sheppard is returned to prison, he'll be eligible for parole in two months, according to Ohio Penitentiary officials.

At Committee

Meet During

Vote on Ethics

At the time of the vote on the controversial bill to establish a tougher code of ethics for legislators and their employees, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R), Ulster, was appearing before the Ways and Means Committee in an endeavor to have his bill involving change in the Mid-Hudson Bridge approach moved out of committee, the assemblyman's office said today.

Assemblyman Wilson sponsored the Assembly bill and Sen. R. Watson Pomeroy (R), Dutchess, sponsored the bill in the Senate. Assemblyman Wilson had been in attendance at the Assembly session during the debate on the ethics bill, which was beaten by a vote of 73 to 71, but had been summoned to the Ways and Means Committee hearing prior to the vote. The ethics bill came to a vote after nearly two hours of debate.

Anxious to have the Mid-Hudson Bridge approach bill reported out of committee in time for action by the Assembly, Wilson appeared before the committee Tuesday afternoon and was absent from the floor when the ethics bill was moved for vote, a spokesman at Wilson's office said.

Hyman Mintz, (R) Sullivan County, who has been ill with a heart ailment, was also absent at the time of the voting.

Four members of the five-man peace commission from the OAS flew back to Washington early today after the rebels and the opposing military junta signed an amplified cease-fire agreement. The fifth member of the commission, Panamanian Ambassador Frank Morrice, remained to continue working for a permanent peace.

Sniping Continues

Sporadic sniping and exchanges of gunfire continued Wednesday, although the city was relatively quiet Wednesday night.

Caamano, sworn in as "provisional president" by the rebels Tuesday, sent requests to foreign governments for diplomatic recognition. The United States announced, however, that it believed "there is no effective (Dominican) government at the present time."

A U.S. spokesman here charged Wednesday night that Caamano is "moving closer to the Communists." The official said the "evaluation as of today is that the rebel movement is Communist-controlled."

Rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo returned to the air urging the people to return to work.

Electricity and water were restored to most of the city. Many shops began reopening.

American forces continued to distribute food along the east-west corridor leading from the international zone to the Ozama River. Anthony Solomon, State Department official sent here to supervise emergency relief operations, said 250 to 350 tons of food is being given out daily to Dominican nationals, regardless of political affiliation.

The United States was making radio broadcasts and distributing leaflets in a campaign to win the population's acceptance of American intervention.

Broadcasts by the Voice of America are received here, and a small radio station was set up in the western part of the city at the home of an American Embassy official.

However, one rebel radio station called on the people to "kill the foreign invader and its lackeys. Quisqueya (an ancient name for the Dominican Republic) is, Yanquis no."

Bosch Balks Caamano In San Juan, ex-President Juan Bosch accused U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett and the U.S. press of giving false information to the American people.

Bosch said he supported the installation of Caamano as provisional president. In launching his revolt two weeks ago, the rebels called for Bosch's return to office, but he now appears to have taken a back seat.

Report Optimism As Macy's Talk Of Fishkill Mart

Optimism was the keynote of an informal meeting Wednesday at Fishkill, which was attended by more than 100 public officials, civic leaders and planners who discussed a plan of R. H. Macy & Co. Inc., New York City department store firm, for construction of a possible $22 million shopping center.

Charles H. Cronheim, a vice-president of the Macy firm and head of the department firm's expansion plan, and Samuel J. Rodman of Fishkill Properties, Inc., outlined the building proposal which would be constructed on a 100-acre site at Routes 84 and 9, Fishkill.

According to tentative plans Fishkill Properties Inc. expects to sell the 100-acre tract to Macy's to carry out their plans for three large department stores and 80 or more associated smaller business establishments. One of the main stores would be occupied by Macy's, and other firms mentioned were Gimbel's and Alexander's.

Cronheim told his enthusiastic listeners that the regional shopping center would cost between $10 million and $22 million, and would provide 1.5 million square feet of store floor space. A park would be constructed near Mt. Beacon, beautifully landscaped with trails and picnic areas.

While no official commitments have been made, Macy's executive, Rodman and the 100 or more prominent officials and planners at yesterday's meeting, were optimistic about the success of the project.

It is expected that construction on the first phase of the regional shopping center project will start in January and the entire program will be completed within three or four years.

Monorail Envisioned

Cronheim and others noted that the center probably will draw customers within a radius of 25 miles.

Rodman envisioned that the travel time between New York City and the Fishkill shopping center would be a half hour, with planned installation of monorail transportation facilities similar to those now successful in Japan.

Yesterday's meeting was held at the Dutchess Manor south of Beacon. Among those attending were Eugene Conte, chairman of the Dutchess County Planning Commission, Supervisor Herbert Muller, Town of Fishkill, and the entire membership of the Fishkill town and village boards.

Conscious of Critics

Johnson Feels He Must Do Much Explaining on Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Probably no man in the White House ever wished more for public approval, or was more conscious of critics, than President Johnson.

It does much to explain his switch in tactics. After ordering Marines into South Viet Nam and the bombing of North Viet Nam, he had to be prodded into talking. Since sending troops into the Dominican Republic he hasn't stopped talking.

When the bombing began last February, the White House simply issued a statement that it was in retaliation for a guerrilla attack on a U.S. air base in South Viet Nam.

As the weeks passed and the bombings continued and the Marines went in Johnson was pelted with criticism at home and abroad, although he got much approval. But he played so many pressures piled on him to start explaining.

Criticism Continues

He finally did on April 7. But the criticism continued. Then he did the exact opposite in public relations last week when he decided to send troops into the Dominican Republic, splintered into chaos by revolution.

He went on the air to explain April 28, April 30, and again May 2. All these broadcasts were at night, the last one Sunday night. It meant breaking into programs. On the last broadcast, 30 minutes long, not all networks carried him.

But the way he built up to main emphasis on why he used troops in Asia and Latin America was almost identical in both cases.

Placing Emphasis

In Viet Nam he first put the emphasis on saving the South Vietnamese people from communism but finally put it on American determination to stop the spread of communism.

In the Dominican Republic he first put the emphasis on saving American lives there and later said the goal was stopping the spread of communism in the Americas.

But, remembering the criticism he got for not talking sooner on Viet Nam, Johnson's timetable of public statements on the Dominican Republic can hardly be interpreted as anything but an anxious search for approval.

First, three broadcasts — April 28 and 30 and May 2 — and on the last day an off-the-record walk around the White House with reporters, explaining his problems.

May 4 Busy Day

A 30-minute broadcast May 2 and on May 3 an unexpected appearance before a labor conference to defend his actions in Latin America. But Tuesday, May 4, was truly a busy talking day.

He sent a message to Congress, asking it to vote $700 million for the Viet Nam fighting, but first he brought squads of senators and representatives for a briefing on what he was going to repeat in the message anyway.

He left no doubt here that what he wanted, more than the money, was approval. He explained he could get the money from other funds already approved by Congress. He explained his motive.

Nothing, he said, could do more to show national unity — which means support for him — than an "overwhelming vote" for what he asked.

"To deny and delay this," he went on, "means deny and delay the fullest support of the American people and the American Congress to those brave men who are risking their lives for freedom in Viet Nam."

He said all those voting for his request would be telling the world Congress and the President stood united in frustrating communism.

Misgivings on Vote

While the House approved the money Wednesday, and the Senate will quickly, several senators expressed misgivings about having their votes interpreted as blanket approval for waging undeclared war anywhere.

After his Tuesday session with the members of Congress Johnson led reporters on an hour-long trek around the White House again, talking about Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and his responsibilities, and defending his actions against criticism.

It was an extraordinary week and, for a President, an extraordinary performance.

"ENGINE" IN THE FRONT—When autos were banned from the island of Borkum in the North Sea to assure quiet for patients at a large sanitarium, one car owner refused to part with his vehicle. Instead, he cut it down to buggy size and equipped it as a horse-drawn two-wheeler. Now he has the world's only Volkswagen with an "engine" in the front.

Body Is Found Of Catskill Man

The body of John Law, 59, an unemployed Catskill laborer who was reported missing from his home Sunday, was found in Catskill Creek Wednesday by Catskill police who had been dragging the creek since Monday.

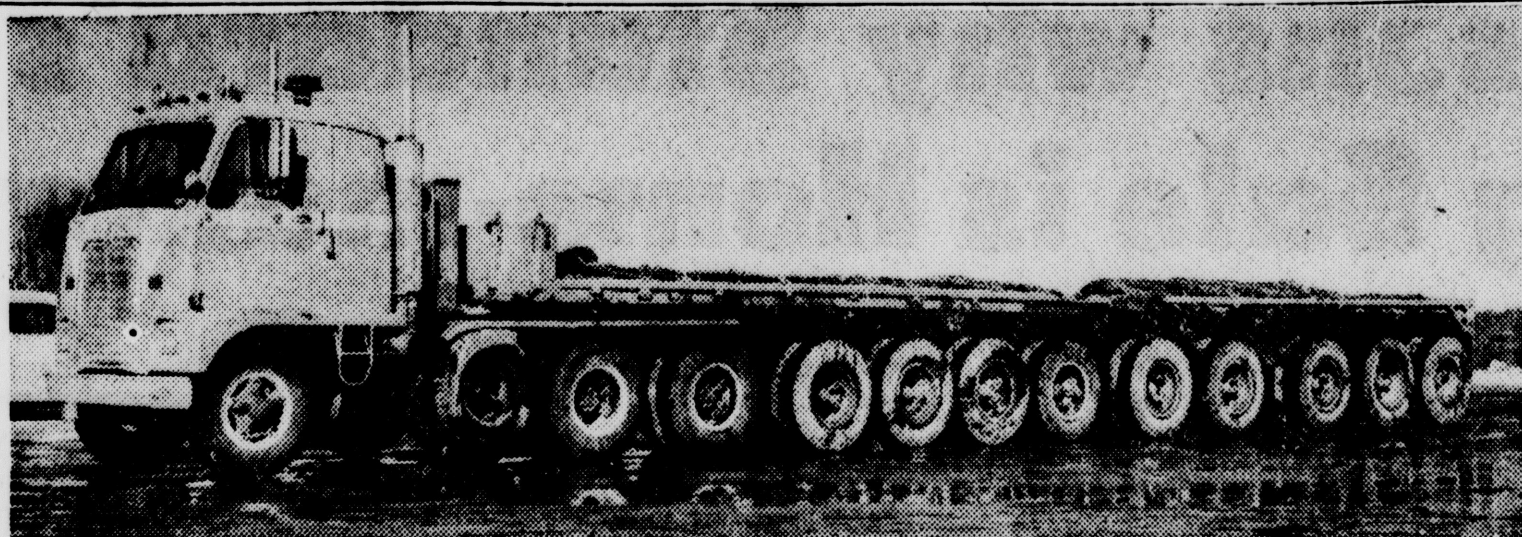

Police said Law was reported missing Sunday morning when a search was begun by police. Dragging operations began when it was reported he had been seen near a dock by the Catskill High School Friday night. It was believed he had been drinking and police theorized he may have fallen in the creek. The body was found near the dock. Coroner Henry Millsbaugh gave a verdict of accidental death. A brother, Henry Law, was burned to death a few months ago when he apparently fell across the stove in his home, police said.

Slim Victory Forecast

Laborites Face Toughest Test On Steel Plans

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government faced its toughest test yet in a House of Commons vote today on Wilson's plans to nationalize most of Britain's steel industry.

Members Recalled

Commons members were called back from places as far away as San Francisco and India to insure that both sides registered top voting strength.

Opinion in the lobbies was that the government would win, though probably by only two votes in the 630-seat House. Last-minute illness or a travel delay could upset these calculations.

The vote was not on a bill to nationalize the steel companies—that is still to be drafted—but on a white paper outlining the principles behind the bill.

Defeat would not automatically force Wilson to resign. He could either demand a vote of confidence in his general program or modify his steel plans to make them acceptable.

Wilson's Laborite command a theoretical majority of four over the Conservatives and Liberals.

Wilson, at a party caucus Wednesday, told the rebels steel nationalization had been in Labor's election platforms since 1955 and he would not submit to blackmail from minorities exploiting the government's small majority.

After the meeting, most Laborites were convinced that the two chief rebels, right-wingers Desmond Donnelly and Woodrow Wyatt, would do no more than abstain.

Would Mean 2-Vote Edge

This would give the government a two-vote margin.

Three laborites and two Conservatives were convalescing after heart attacks. Ambulances were to bring all but one of them, a Laborite, to the House. His absence was matched by that of a Conservative ill after a brain operation.

Conservative Patrick Wall was ordered home from San Francisco, where he was on a tour for the English-Speaking Union. Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley was called back from a tour of the Far East.

Just Needs Signature

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Industrial Development Loan fund is about to be $1 million richer, the PIDA program itself is expanded and the General Assembly is in recess until Monday.

In the House, however, there is no indication that the snarl over legislative reapportionment is over.

All that stands between the two additional $1 million for PIDA to operate within the remaining two months of the current fiscal year is Republican Gov. William W. Scranton's signature.

The bill was sent to Scranton's desk Wednesday on a 49-0 vote in the Senate. There is no doubt that Scranton will sign it since he requested the supplemental funds in his budget.

United CP Annual Report Shows Gains; Drive Starts

The events that triggered the end of neglect and seclusion for the victims of cerebral palsy are highlighted in the 15th annual report just issued by United Cerebral Palsy Association Inc., the nation's fifth ranking voluntary health organization.

According to the anniversary report, recognition of cerebral palsy as a major health problem calling for medical treatment resulted from the attention aroused by a polio flare-up in 1916, which drove parents of afflicted children to doctors' offices for a diagnosis; a survey that revealed that there were more than one half million victims in this country; and the subsequent discovery that all those with cerebral palsy were not mentally defective.

Income of $11,200,000 was raised by the organization nationally through its 324 affiliated last year, according to the report. Edward deGroff, president of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County Inc., said that the funds raised will enable the agency to give increased emphasis to the field of prevention during the coming year.

Preventative Programs

According to Mr. deGroff, a concerted effort is needed in cooperation with other agencies to improve the quality of pre-natal care for mothers and post-natal care for infants. This is especially important for infants born at home or for families who do not have well-baby clinics in their area.

Earlier identification of infants born with brain damage will also be stressed in prevention programs, Mr. deGroff said. "If we can identify such children at an earlier age and learn more about specific disabilities, we can minimize much of the severe disabling effects that occur later in life."

Another area of major concern to UCPA is long-term care. Mr.

deGroff said that the organization is actively gathering information on how long-term care is being provided and what patterns of organization, facilities, staffing and financing can be worked out. The local CP Center is at present planning to build a new building on Webster Avenue, Kingston to provide for expansion of its services to the area.

UCPA, organized in 1949, points out in its report that cerebral palsy is centuries old and that because of prejudice and ignorance its victims were kept in institutions or were shut away at home and regarded as hopeless.

The polio epidemic of 1916 brought many of these children to the attention of doctors because parents believed that their children were stricken with infantile paralysis. Although they were turned away, parents began to demand information and medical help for their child's condition.

Opened Here in 1951

It was just such a group of parents with Dr. Henry L. Bibby, local pediatrician, as president and including Dr. Saul Ritchie, orthopedic specialist, Mary Keresman, Mrs. Gerald Sumer, and Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom who started the Cerebral Center in Kingston. Officially opened Dec. 11, 1951 with 25 patients and with Mrs. Charlotte Peck, present director, as physical therapist, its total funds amounted to $6,000. Today, the patient enrollment is 180, the staff consists of one physical therapist, three speech therapists, one nursery school teacher, one secretary and one director and the budget is $60,000.

Although the public knew virtually nothing about the education when the first fund raising campaign was launched in 1950, it contributed over one million dollars, helping to establish treatment clinics, special education programs and vocational guidance programs. Today, some 52 community services are available to the handicapped and their families and more than $7,000,000 has been invested by UCPA in research programs that have yielded much new information on the causes, prevention and detection of cerebral palsy and related disorders.

Annual Fund Drive
The Ulster-Greene Cerebral

Palsy Fund Drive, with a goal of $7,700 is currently being conducted in Ulster County is areas outside the Community Chest and in all of Greene County. Mrs. Martin Oberkirch Jr. and Addison Jones, co-chairmen, hope that all will contribute generously to the drive, enabling the center to serve the public and its children to an even greater extent in the future than it has in the past.

Elect Pakanen, Southam, Cline To Education Board Positions

Robert C. Cline of Washburn Terrace defeated Perry A. Bunyar of Lafayette Street Wednesday in the only contest of Saugerties Board of Education elections held at Main Street School. Incumbent Jack O. Pakanen of Oakledge Park, and John Southam of Austin Avenue, Barclay Heights, running unopposed, also were elected.

Pakanen, a licensed land surveyor, who served on the board since 1961, polled 286 votes in what was described as light balloting. Southam was next highest with 278. Cline defeated Bunyar 261 to 86 for the contested seat of Robert Herb, board president who did not wish to run.

A total of 351 registered to vote. Last year more than 650 voted in a three-way contest for one seat won by Mrs. Ann Karashay.

Southam, an employee of International Business Machines Corp., fills the vacancy created when Stuart M. Buchan did not wish to run.

Cline is assistant to the president with the F. L. Russell Corp., Mt. Marion.

The newly elected members of the board will take office at the organization meeting July 6 when officers will also be elected. The next regular meeting of the board will be held Monday, May 17 at the administration offices.

Voters of the district, by nearly a three to one margin, approved the 1965-66 school budget amounting to $2,802,960.26 at a meeting at Saugerties High School auditorium Tuesday.

Tellers reported 128 ballots in favor, 46 ballots against, two ballots void, and one ballot blank. The increase over the previous year reflects the cost of operating two additional buildings plus salaries of the new personnel required.

It is estimated that this will result in a local property tax rate of $98.62 per $1000 assessed valuation. Saugerties District faces a problem of a six to seven per cent increase in school enrollments each year and for the first time in several years will have all pupils on regular sessions. At the present time, 40 elementary classes are attending part-time, as well as the seventh and eighth grades.

A surprise element was introduced in the proceedings when John B. Boulton Jr., of High Woods presented a resolution to transport all pupils in kindergarten through grades six who live a distance of over a half-mile from the school to which they have been assigned. In supporting his resolution he stated that he was concerned with the safety of pupils and felt that a reduction of the walking distance required might save lives.

His estimate of the cost to the district for the additional transportation, on which the district would not receive state aid, was between $25,000 and $30,000. The resolution was defeated and balloting showed 50 votes in favor and 117 against.

Several of those present were concerned with the budget format prescribed by the state in order to provide better statistical information for school districts. The new type budget became effective July 1, 1964 and budgets adopted under different forms for the 1964-65 school year had to be translated to meet the required form.

The Department of Audit and Control is also requiring that district accounts be kept under the double-entry system of bookkeeping. Although explanatory material and statistics had been provided for those who desired to analyze costs, more detailed information was requested.

School authorities offered to provide the detailed information as requested but pointed out that detailing the entire budget would result in a voluminous document. They emphasized that as required by statute the public had been notified that copies of the budget were available at the Administration Building at least seven days prior to the meeting and that anyone who wished more detailed information would have been provided the same upon request.

During the meeting Attorney Daniel Lamb presided as moderator after having been unanimously elected.

List School Cost Here Under State, County Averages

A comparison of per pupil costs, made possible by a publication of the State Department of Audit and Control entitled "State of New York, School District Budget Data 1964-65 County Summaries," shows Saugerties Central Schools are operating at a cost below the average for Ulster County and Upstate New York.

The data, made possible by a new required budget format for school districts and computers analyzing local cost. The statistics are based on 1964-65 school year budgets and the department has used available daily attendance as a factor in determining per pupil costs.

The average cost per pupil of total budget appropriations in 744 Upstate districts and nine districts in Ulster County was $867.32 in comparison to Saugerties' $709.28. The net operating cost per pupil excluding debt service, transportation costs, and inter-fund transfers, is $730.25 for Upstate, $704.42 for Ulster County, and $543.32 for Saugerties.

Local property taxes on a per pupil basis showed $403.19 for Upstate, $299.91 for Ulster County, and $237.09 for Saugerties. State aid was $415.40 for Upstate, $401.14 for Ulster County, and $412.00 for Saugerties. When related to full valuation, the taxable property per pupil which indicates the amount of wealth behind each pupil was $26,026.00 for Upstate, $29,342.00 for Ulster County, and $19,235.00 for Saugerties. Again, in terms of full valuation the tax rate for the budgets were $15.49 for Upstate, $14.65 for Ulster County, and $12.30 for Saugerties.

Draft Cards Burned As Santo Protest

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Forty University of California students burned their draft cards in front of the Berkeley Draft Board Wednesday in protest of "the invasion of the Dominican Republic."

While Berkeley police photographers snapped their photos, the students squatted in a huddle like a football team and placed their burning cards in a small pile.

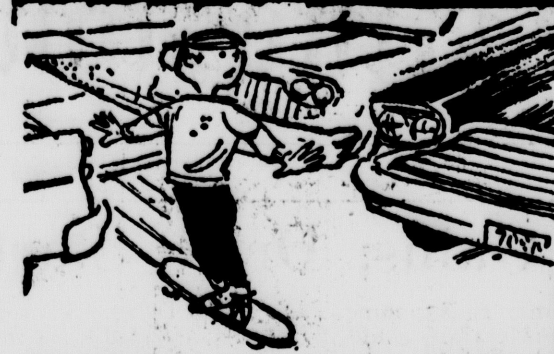

Hundreds of students marched on the draft board after a noon rally at the UC Berkeley campus at which student and faculty members assailed the United States move into the Dominican Republic.

Cambodia Willing

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—The government of Cambodia said today it would resume normal diplomatic relations with the United States if the United States ended the war in Viet Nam and "showed a little respect and consideration for Cambodia."

The Cambodian position was outlined in a letter from Foreign Minister Koum Wick to U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Rusk had written Wick taking note with regret of Cambodia's decision to break diplomatic relations.

Safety Tips for Skateboarders

Don't skate on public streets or sidewalks. Most important, don't glide down a driveway into street.

Restrict skateboarding to suitable playgrounds or designated areas of parks or other recreational centers.

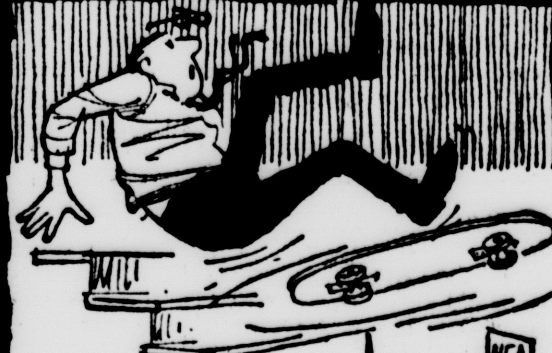

Don't attempt difficult maneuvers that will lead to falls and injuries.

Check boards periodically to see if they're in proper working order.

Strive for control rather than increased speed.

Keep boards in a safe place when not in use.

$800 Verdicts Are Returned in Court

Verdicts totaling $800 were returned Wednesday in two negligence actions tried in Supreme Court before Justice Louis G. Bruhn. Both actions arose out of an altercation at the Trailways Cafeteria Inc., restaurant on central Broadway on May 12, 1961.

Plaintiffs allege they had been assaulted by another patron and that the restaurant management had been negligent in protecting them.

Arthur D. Hogan was awarded $500 and James Nazzaro was awarded $300 for injuries received when they alleged they had been assaulted by Charles Eastman, another customer.

Franklin P. Gavin appeared for plaintiffs and Andrew J. Cook appeared for the defendants.

It was alleged Eastman entered the restaurant, spoke to the cashier and was ordered out. He returned shortly after and nothing was done to protect the customers by the management. The assault ensued. It was alleged the management was negligent in not protecting patrons after it became evident that Eastman was in a belligerent mood. It was alleged the management had been placed on notice of that fact.

2 Infants Killed In Crash of Jet

TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. F105 jet fighter hurtled into a housing area for American military families Wednesday night, killing a Puerto Rican serviceman's two baby sons and injuring eight other Americans.

The fighter plane ran into trouble while landing at Yokota Air Base, about 20 miles from Tokyo. The pilot, Col. Elvis H. Walker of Mt. Pleasant, Tex., pointed it toward Sagami Bay.

Walker and the plane's other occupant, Capt. Harold A. Shelton of Wichita, Kan., ejected. The plane veered inland and plowed into a street of the Sagami housing area.

Walker injured his ankle slightly. Shelton was unhurt.

Identity Sought Of 31 Killed In Plane Crash

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — Consuls and officials of six nations sought today to identify 31 persons killed in the crash of a Spanish airliner. Aeronautical experts tried to determine the cause of the accident.

The four-engine super-constellation of Iberia Airlines was coming in from Madrid Wednesday night with 40 passengers and a crew of 8 when it struck the runway of Los Rodeos Airport, broke in two and caught fire.

The dead included 15 Spaniards, 6 Britons, 5 Swiss, 2 Italians, 2 Germans and a Frenchman. Iberia officials said some of the survivors were in grave condition.

The airport was blanketed in fog when the plane made its landing approach.

Iberia officials said the 17 survivors were rescued because the plane broke apart and rescue workers were able to pull them out before the fire reached them.

Notes Infiltration

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The governor of Korat Province said today that Communist insurgents have infiltrated his area, where three U.S. Air Force jet fighter squadrons are based.

It was the first announcement that insurgents had penetrated the central province far from the Laotian border to the northeast.

Gov. Sawat Pariphat did not say what activities the Reds were engaged in.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, May 6, the 126th day of 1965. There are 239 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1942, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright surrendered Corregidor to the Japanese, the end of resistance to their conquest of the Philippines. Then began the long and painful retreat on Bataan.

On this date
In 1864, the bloody Battle of the Wilderness reached a climax in Virginia when Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's attack forced the Confederates under Gen. Robert E. Lee to start their retreat. Fourteen thousand Union soldiers were killed, wounded or missing; the Southerners lost almost as many.

In 1889, the Eiffel Tower was opened, marking the start of the Paris World's Fair.

In 1937, the German dirigible Hindenburg exploded and burned over Lakehurst, N.J.; 36 were killed.

In 1941, Joseph Stalin became premier of the Soviet Union.

In 1943, U.S. Army planes attacked the Aleutian islands of Kiska and Attu.

Ten years ago — Britain asked the International Court of Justice to order recognition of British sovereignty over the Falkland Islands and reject the claims of Argentina and Chile.

Five years ago — Princess Margaret became the bride of a commoner, Antony Armstrong-Jones, in a ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

One year ago — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left for a visit with President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Egypt.

Birth Control Measure Dies in Committee

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A measure to repeal a state law against disseminating birth-control information and devices has died in committee.

Capitol sources said Wednesday night that it was unlikely the measure, sponsored by Assemblyman Percy Sutton, D-Manhattan, would be revived during the remaining weeks of the legislative session.

His bill, he said, would have helped clarify a move by the State Board of Social Welfare to make birth control information and contraceptives available to unmarried persons on relief.

Some critics of the welfare board say the new birth-control policy violates the state law.

The statute makes it illegal to provide devices, drugs or information on birth control, except when a physician acts "for the cure or prevention of disease."

The Roman Catholic Church opposed the new welfare board policy on the ground it would encourage illicit sexual relations among unmarried persons. The State Council of Protestant Churches supported the policy.

Heart Institute For Nurses Is Attended by 100

Approximately 100 registered nurses and allied professional personnel from Ulster and Greene Counties attended the first session of the Heart Institute for Nurses May 3 at the Brigham School.

The Institute consists of a series of three sessions dealing with the theme Strike Back at Stroke with emphasis on Understanding Aphasia.

The topic Prevention, Early Diagnosis and Management was presented at the first session by Dr. David Green, assistant professor of neurology at the Albany Medical Center Hospital, Albany.

In presenting his topic, Dr. Green said that the salient causes of stroke are arteriosclerosis, hypertension and blood coagulation imbalance. He emphasized the point that other conditions frequently simulate stroke, and that careful tests are therefore necessary to establish early diagnosis.

As a part of nursing care management, Dr. Green pointed out the importance of early mobilization, both active and passive, of the stroke patient in order to prevent complications.

Dr. Green mentioned that prevention is a difficult medical problem. However, the control of hypertension, diabetes mellitus and vascular insufficiency are some of the ways in which physicians today are combating strokes.

The lecture was illustrated by appropriate slides.

The second session of the Institute will be held May 10 at 7:45 p. m. at the Brigham School, Kingston, covering the topic Fundamental Considerations—Normal and Abnormal Verbal Behavior, it was announced by Miss Katherine A. Bower, executive director of the Ulster County Heart Association and Institute coordinator. She said that interested persons are invited to attend the remaining two sessions and may register at the next session.

The Institute is being sponsored by the Ulster and Greene Counties Heart Chapters with the cooperation of the New York State Nurses Association District 11.

Study Project Is Done at Wallkill School About TB

The Ulster County TB Association joined the Wallkill High School last week in a tuberculin testing program which was established to screen the students in the school's senior class. This shared program was announced today by Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., association president, in review of the Christmas Seal group's Tuberculosis Community Service efforts in Ulster County.

Mrs. Joyce Kopf, Wallkill High School's School nurse-teacher, directed the school's request for tuberculin testing work through Miss Helen Genies, director of Public Health Nursing, Ulster County Department of Health, it was pointed out. The further development of the project was cleared with Robert J. Robinson, Wallkill principal. The program then was fully developed and conducted last Wednesday a. m., under the direction of Mrs. Kopf and E. Robert Johnson, executive director of the TB Association. The program's active testing organization included Miss Almira Porter, R.N. and Miss Mabel Robinson, R.N., and Mrs. Marie Johnson, program volunteers of the TB Association, and school aides, Ann Marie Earl and Joan Wood, Wallkill High School seniors, and Christine Grismer of the School's Future Nurses Club. The tests were administered by Dr. Charles W. Beattie of Wallkill.

five years of tuberculin testing and X-ray programs in our area are being prepared for study and evaluation by our Ulster County Tuberculosis Evaluation Conference," Mr. Johnson noted.

"Our TB Association will join with the Ulster County Department of Health; Ulster County TB Hospital; Ulster County Department of Welfare, and other agencies and experts in this evaluation project. The five year test period originally was established as a consequence of the 1958-59 epidemiological study instituted here by our organization and the official agencies. The present study project will be guided by the recommendations of the National Tuberculosis Association and the Surgeon-General TB Task Force Report," Johnson added.

Study - Type Project
"The tuberculin testing project at our Wallkill High School is not a factor in this evaluation study," Johnson noted. "It represents a 'study-type' project in which the primary goal at this time was the clearance of the tested group. It will, however, be available to our next study-evaluation, and will then be joined to the programmed tuberculosis reactor and screening set up at the conclusion of the present TB Evaluation Conference."

Dr. Holcomb pointed out that the Wallkill program demonstrated again in actual operation, the TB Christmas Seal Agency's active support of and cooperation with Ulster County schools and institutions in furthering the control of tuberculosis, and the continuing effort toward a high level of health for our students and their parents. This is one of the top priorities to which our Ulster County TB Association is dedicated," he concluded.

Warning Is Bared In Construction Tieup Across N. Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Management picketed management today for the second day in an oddity of the construction disputes that have halted work on nearly $275 million in Upstate projects and idled more than 14,000 men. Possible violence was hinted.

An Albany spokesman for Eastern New York Construction Employers Inc. said contractors in that organization were continuing to picket non-member contractors who insisted on working while member contractors were idle. The organization is trying to negotiate contracts with the building-trade unions.

The spokesman, Dr. Wm. VanEekeren also told a reporter that one member contractor who picketed had received a telephoned tip that "his life and limb are in jeopardy."

On the projects halted, about $250 million are in Eastern's territory, fanning out from Albany, where much state construction is affected. The 30 unions seeking new contracts with Eastern claim a membership of 10,000. The main issue was a union demand for a 7-hour work day.

Other construction workers were on strike in western New York. They went back to work on three projects in Niagara County, however, after the operating engineers' union ratified a contract providing for a wage increase of 35 cents an hour over two years. The previous wage was $4.77.

The other western New York strikes were in Cattaraugus, Allegany, Chautauque and Steuben counties.

Mediation sessions there and in the eastern dispute were recessed Wednesday until Friday.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market clung to a small gain early this afternoon in active trading.

The list was pushing into record high ground for the fifth straight session, but seemed to have trouble holding its gains as the session wore on.

A parade of large blocks again boosted the volume total and, if the pace continued, it would probably be another six-million-share day.

Investment buying combined with speculative purchases to give the market a well-balanced look, but there was very little in the way of group leadership. Airlines were higher, most of them fractionally, with United up about a point and a half. Steels and motors were unchanged to a shade higher. Oils showed scant change.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 344.2, with industrials up .9, rails up .2 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .40 at 932.62—down from a gain of .95 in the morning.

Selected blue chips gave support to the averages. Among these, DuPont rose 2. Westinghouse and Kennecott about a point each, General Motors, American Smelting, Liggett & Myers, New York Central and Commonwealth Edison fractions.

Prices rose in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate and U.S. government bonds showed little change. Trading was quiet.

ing approval of the new salary schedule for teachers, and remarks made by some of the Board members, "leads me to believe that little would be gained in the area of cooperation by any proposal I might make at this time."

The board's vice president emphasized that he did not make these remarks "with any censure of either point of view, but rather to explain why I do not feel I can offer a resolution to the board at this time."

In concluding his letter, Withall said, "I am ever hopeful that there is always some middle ground upon which opposing philosophies can come together in order that prime purposes may be served, in this instance the education of growing generations of this community." He noted that with that hope, he remains always available and ready to discuss the problem with any and all interested parties.

Donald J. Sweeney, president of KTF, and other members of the federation attended last night's meeting, but had no comment at the session on Withall's letter.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said today the distance between the Mars-bound Mariner IV spacecraft and the earth is increasing at the rate of about 1 million miles a day.

Mariner is currently 72 million miles from earth. When it makes its closest approach to Mars on July 14, Mariner will be 134 million miles from earth.

In giving these figures, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Mariner is continuing to send scientific and engineering data to ground stations daily.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flexible guidelines have been set up in many parts of the country governing the amount a taxpayer can deduct for church contributions.

The Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday that the guidelines are used when taxpayers are challenged and asked to produce evidence of the deductions shown on their return.

The guidelines apparently vary from about $50 to $80. Each district director is allowed to set up his own guidelines, the IRS spokesman said.

The question arose when it was learned that the New York district commissioner had set a limit for church and miscellaneous charitable contributions totaling $78 a year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Secretaries Association (International) has selected Eugene O. Foley, administrator of the Small Business Administration, as international boss of the year.

Mrs. Hazel A. Keller, the international president who is a secretary in Portland, Ore., announced the selection of Foley on Wednesday.

In 1962, despite reapportionment of his district, which gave the Democratic party an enrolled majority of 35,000, Congressman Lindsay polled 68 per cent of the vote in running up a 53,000 vote majority.

Kingston Republican City Chairman urged all persons who wish to attend the Sunday, May 16th testimonial dinner and hear Representative Lindsay to get in the reservations immediately, as there are very few tickets remaining. Life Insurance Stocks Long-Term Holdings

Q—"I own stock in Northwestern National Life. During the past month the shares have dropped from 56 to 47. Should I sell this stock and what would you recommend? I have substantial sums in building and loans. I am 81 and a retired realtor and income is important. Can you suggest any stock paying six per cent or better?"

A—"I have often said here that life insurance stocks should always be regarded as long-term holdings. Your Northwestern has come back to 50 bid. Unless you have a serious capital gains tax problem here, I would sell this stock because of its low 0.5 per cent yield and because the life shares are currently out of favor and may remain so for some time.

I can recommend no stock at current high levels to yield six per cent with safety. I suggest Maytag—a fine appliance maker, yielding 4.9 per cent with an upward price trend extending from many years past.

Q—"I am nervous about buying stocks but I would do as well from a yield standpoint with tax-exempts, since I am in a relatively high (50 per cent) income bracket. Would you recommend municipals at this time and, if so, which ones?" R. C.

A—"The only thing you risk in buying tax-exempts is that, being fixed as to income, they offer you no protection against inflation. They will, however, bring you a relatively high, taxable equivalent yield in your bracket. Right now, the municipal market is a little tricky, following the slowness of retail acceptance of the recent big New York City issue. Banks, normally big tax-exempt buyers, seem to be holding back at the moment.

In your place, I would buy shorter maturity bonds until we see how this market turns out. I suggest New York State Thruway 2 1/4 of 11/1/1965 to yield 2.20 and California 2 1/4 of 1968 on a 2.60 basis.

A fire in Block Park and another along the railroad tracks off O'Neil Street were believed deliberately set Wednesday night.

Stemmed From Meredith Attempts

Clear Barnett and Johnson Of Contempt at Ole Miss

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Former Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett — and his successor, Paul B. Johnson, the current chief executive of the Deep South state — have been freed of criminal contempt stemming from their attempts to keep a Negro from enrolling at the University of Mississippi.

4-3 Decision
The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, in a 4-3 decision announced Wednesday, dropped the charges, which grew out of the 1962 integration of Ole Miss by James H. Meredith.

"No sufficient reasons exist for further prosecution of the proceedings," said the 3-2 majority opinion of Judges Richard Rives of Montgomery, Ala.; Warren Jones of Jacksonville, Fla.; Walter P. Gwin of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Griffin B. Bell of Atlanta, Ga.

"We are doubtful, to say the least, whether we and the other judges may not have formed a fixed opinion that" Johnson and Barnett are guilty, the majority said.

Barnett was governor at the time; Johnson was lieutenant governor.

They asked for a jury trial. The appeals court, divided 4-4, asked the U.S. Supreme Court to decide the issue. The Supreme Court said no jury, and told the appellate judges to proceed.

The three dissenting judges took 192 pages to say why they opposed dropping the contempt action.

Judge John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans, in his dissent, called Barnett "the man in high office who defied the nation" and "struck a blow against American federalism."

No Barnett Comment
Barnett, now practicing law at Jackson, Miss., declined to comment on the ruling.

Johnson's office said he was out of the state.

When Meredith arrived at Ole Miss on Sunday, Sept. 30, 1962, a riot broke out. By dawn the next day, two men were dead and several hundred injured. The Army, 23,000 strong, moved in and Meredith was officially enrolled.

Before Meredith's admission, the appeals court held Barnett and Johnson guilty of civil contempt. The civil contempt case was also ordered formally terminated Wednesday.

The criminal contempt charges were filed at the request of the appeals court itself on Nov. 16, 1962, by the Justice Department.

Sister to Start Anew at 65 in Job Corps Post

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Sister Francetta Barberis is beginning again — with a tarnished silver dollar and a new job at the age of 65.

Sister Francetta, now president of Webster College at St. Louis, becomes a full-time consultant and coordinator for Job Corps centers for women June 1. She will wear secular clothing while working instead of the black robes of the Roman Catholic Sisters of Loretta.

"Life is a series of beginnings," she says. "Beginnings make life exciting and the final great beginning is death."

When she became Webster College President in 1958, the school needed money and Sister Francetta started a fund drive.

One day a student stopped her, handed her the silver dollar and said it was all she had to give.

"That silver dollar was part of my beginning here and I don't think I'll ever give it away," she says.

Sister Francetta thinks nothing of working in secular dress instead of the habit she has worn since 1928 as a Roman Catholic nun.

"People put too much emphasis on clothing," she says. "When I go swimming, I wear a swimming suit. When I work among the people, it would be hoove me to wear the habit of the people."

Permission to wear the secular clothing was obtained from the head of her order, Sister Mary Luke, when Sister Francetta decided she wanted to keep working after retirement from Webster.

"I believe in retirement at age 65," she says. "But, I don't believe in stagnating."

She said she called Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and asked him if he could help find her a job in the antipollution program. Symington did — with the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Set Equalization For County Units, City Will Protest

Final state equalization rates based on 1964 assessment rolls have been established for two villages and seven townships and the tentative rate has been set for the City of Kingston, it was announced today.

Kingston was given a tentative rate of 35, the same as last year. However, Harry Gold, corporation council has filed a complaint and is asking for a hearing in order that the city may justify allocation of a higher rate for the city.

The Village of Rosendale was given 64 the same as last year and the Village of Saugerties 61, one point lower than last year.

All seven townships announced received the same ratings as last year.

They are: Plattekill 7; Rochester 28; Rosendale 12; Shandaken 30; Ulster 15; Wawarsing 17; and Woodstock 12.

The announcement by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, Albany established final rates for 18 cities; 664 towns and 191 villages.

Equalization rates are the ratio between the assessed value of local real property and its actual or full value as determined by the state. When market values rise in a community, but assessments do not the rates drop.

Lower rates usually mean an increased share of school taxes and a lesser portion of state aid.

Seranton Plan Scored

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Seranton administration's fiscal handling of the 14 Pennsylvania state colleges is under fire from both Republicans and Democrats on the House Appropriations Committee.

The legislators scored the Republican administration Wednesday for not spending all the money available to the schools.

Other criticism included budget cuts, red tape involved in getting budget approval and charges of slowness in constructing college buildings.

Also appearing before the Democratic-controlled committee was state Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy, who explained his department's budget request of $24.6 million for fiscal 1965-66.

Notes Death in Book

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., 87-year-old president pro tempore of the Senate, wrote a note to Marvin H. Bernstein and Walter F. Murphy of Princeton University to inform them that a political science textbook they wrote had some wrong information.

"My attention," wrote Hayden, "has been directed to the footnote on page 312 of the fourth edition of 'American Democracy in Theory and Practice,' which states that I died in 1962. This information is not in accord with the latest edition of the Congressional Directory, which indicates that I was re-elected in 1962 to be a senator from Arizona for a term of six years."

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, speaking during a special Roman Catholic week devoted to attracting more persons to religious vocations, says the Church faces the "painful" problem of a scarcity of priests and nuns.

The Pope spoke Wednesday to a crowd of several thousand tourists during his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica.

Father and Five Children Perish In Jersey Blaze

FAIRFIELD, N.J. (AP) — A father and five of his children perished in a pre-dawn fire that swept through their frame house today.

Dead were Jules Hiltgen, 44, and his children, Thomas, 13, Donald, 9, Renee, 7, Hank, 6, and Joseph, 2.

Police said the fire broke out about 2:15 a.m. in the kitchen of the family home in this Newark suburb.

Hiltgen's wife, Mary, was the only survivor. Police said she jumped from her bedroom window to the ground, suffering a fractured ankle.

The family has another son, Charles, 19, a college student in Utica, N.Y., police said.

KIND NOTE AND MORE FLOWERS WILL COVER FLORIST'S ERROR

Q: I ordered a floral piece to be sent to the funeral of a friend and in some unexplainable way the order was lost and the flowers never sent. I inquired when I did not receive a bill from the florist. I'm really very distressed over this. Is there anything I can do to let the bereaved family know that I had not forgotten them?

A: You could send them some flowers for their house with a note saying, "I have just learned that the flowers I ordered for Mary's funeral were never sent. These are to let you know that my love and sympathy were with you on that day, as they are now."

Writing to Mr. Jones Jr.

Q: When writing a letter to a man who is a Jr., is this suffix used after his name in the salutation of a letter? In other words, do you begin, "Dear Mr. Jones," or "Dear Mr. Jones, Jr.?" One of the girls in the office and I have had a disagreement over this and I would appreciate your settling it.

A: You begin, "Dear Mr. Jones." The Jr. is included after his name only in the address.

Privileges of Bringing a Friend

Q: I am going to be married soon and both my fiancé and I have several unmarried friends whom we would like to invite to the wedding. We would like to give them the privilege of bringing a friend to the reception. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be addressed in this situation?

A: Write on the inside envelope of the invitation, "Mr. Jones and Guest," or "Miss Smith and Guest."

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Resnick; Mrs. Irma Coty, division president; Aaron E. Klein, chairman, Ulster County Democratic Committee; and Jack Bagliebter, state committeeman. (Polcano photo)

Woman's Role in Politics Is Discussed At Democratic Political Education Day

Democratic women of Ulster County held their annual day of Political Education Saturday, May 1st, at Ski-Minne Restaurant on the Minnewaska Trail. Sponsored by the Ulster County Democratic Women's Division, 150 women heard Glen Van Bramer of Poughkeepsie speak for Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, who is recuperating from a recent operation at Bethesda Naval Hospital. Mr. Van Bramer, Legislative Assistant to Mr. Resnick, gave the Washington Report. Mrs. Mae Gurevich, vice chairman, New York State Democratic Committee, spoke of the women's role in politics and government and Dr. Edna C. Macmahon, Vassar College Economics Professor, stressed new thoughts and ideas emphasizing that women have a definite and serious new role to play in the Great Society.

Mrs. Florence Crosby, treasurer of the Women's Division and former vice chairman of the County Committee, moderated a morning panel and roundtable discussion. Discussion Leaders were Miss Pauline Rose, Denning; Mrs. Ruth Decker, Lloyd; Miss Amy Hirsch, Marletown; Mrs. Eleanor Spagnola, Marlborough; Mrs. Catherine O'Leary, Rosendale; Mrs. Helen Martucci, Saugerties; Mrs. Freda Martens, Ulster; Mrs. Margaret Crans, Walkill; Mrs. Jean Miller, Woodstock and Mrs. Kaye Quick, Kingston.

John Quimby, Supervisor of Town of Marlborough and Minority Leader of the Board of Supervisors, the first speaker on the panel, addressed the group on issues in the county. Concerning the Community College, Mr. Quimby said he was convinced that the appropriate committees of the Board of Supervisors as well as the College Board of Trustees were working assiduously toward making the new construction an early reality.

He pointed out that much legislation, first proposed by Democrats, and later enacted into law, included the County Planning Commission, the Community College, the Industrial Development Commission and a "line-item" form of budget. He also said that the Democratic Supervisors still hope to replace the antiquated coroner system with a medical examiner system. Quimby stated that the minority party was striving to bring about more economical purchasing by the county, to establish a county-wide park system as well as a county-wide re-appraisal of real estate. A study is underway concerning the re-apportionment of county legislators which he deemed to be the most important one now before the board.

Miss Rose M. Ferro, vice chairman of Monroe County Democratic Committee, has been an active community and party worker for many years, besides owning and operating a large trucking business. In her talk she said we are now living in an age when Democracy is struggling for its very existence, where mankind is on the brink of self-destruction, where capitalism is called consumerism and where automation has brought us to a technological millennium. In history, women have privately and quietly always stood for realism, responsibility, resourcefulness and devotion. The age of automation is basically, by its very nature, an age where jobs will be mostly in the area of human services. Women, because of their image, must take this image out into the world as they will be the humanizers of tomorrow. Women must go beyond the old rules they've had in politics as the time has come when they must assume and initiate action on the issues that they know and believe in for the betterment of the community. Miss Ferro stated. The president of the Woodstock Democratic Club, Peter W. Rakov also spoke and said that within the last 50 years, women have made politics a truly honorable profession, by taking it out of the back rooms and moving it to the family room. Their motivation, sincerity and dedication built and perpetuate the Woodstock Democratic Club, Rakov said.

Mrs. Everett Coty, president of the Women's Division, was the toastmistress. She introduced Mrs. Mae Gurevich, vice chairman of the New York State Democratic Committee. Mrs. Gurevich quoted Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson in her opening remarks by saying: "Your horizons are infinite. You were born at the right time. It is good to be a woman because your country, more than at any time in its history, is utilizing your abilities and intelligence." Mrs. Gurevich also said that "women must play a key role in the political arena. They do this by constant all year-round planning, programming and persistence. Ulster County is fortunate to have women like Harriet Allen Kerr, Irma Coty, Florence Crosby, Rose Hogan and the women on the various committees. Our legislators, Senator Kennedy and Congressman Resnick depend upon women for grassroots support in their fight for legislation in Washington." Mrs. Gurevich would like to see more women running for public office and making policy. She stressed the importance of the November elections "as the outcome may well be the all important base for the gubernatorial election campaign of 1966." She emphasized the need to strengthen lines of party communication on all levels of its organizational structure. She concluded: "The challenges of life today have made politics everybody's business — the most exciting game in the world — indeed, the only means of man's survival. It is the machinery of government. To live fully, richly, satisfyingly, a knowledge of politics is imperative. May your Women's Division continue to grow and may you also continue to give service to your Party and your community."

Dr. Edna C. Macmahon of Vassar College said that with the new challenge of justice and equality, women must now change their thinking and train their children differently because the daily behavior of individuals is what will count in the future. "In the Great Society, women, in particular, must think hard before they act as some of the old traditional beliefs must be erased from our thinking. We can no longer agree that government is bad or that property is sacred. We have to think in terms of good city planning and what constitutes a healthy and beautiful environment. President Johnson feels that Congress can pass the new laws for economic and social equality but that they must be implemented by individuals and acted on at the local levels of government. There must be public action to eliminate inequality so that women face a new challenge and responsibility. We must now think in terms of shapes of new school districts, locations of low-income housing and urban renewal policies which do not isolate or displace low income families," Dr. Macmahon said.

Mr. Van Bramer, legislative assistant to Congressman Resnick, said that "women must actually participate in our great social revolution, that is, they must help to drive inequality and poverty from our society. Since Americans are only 6 per cent of the world's population and if we want to keep our posture of world leadership and meet our commitments to the other countries, men women and children must participate. Women have distinguished themselves in government service since 1773 when the first woman was appointed and now they must do so in ever-increasing numbers. In the final analysis, the Great Society must begin in the individual heart." Van Bramer also said the Congressman was very disturbed by a speech made by Congressman Dickinson of Alabama who cast aspersions on the Americans who took part in the Selma to Montgomery civil rights march. He issued a challenge to Dickinson to make his charges against the civil rights marchers and clergymen in public, away from Congressional immunity as these remarks were made on the floor of the House. Mr. Resnick was quoted as saying, "I might remind Mr. Dickinson that the State of Alabama itself is similar to a Communist society in that not all citizens are allowed to vote in free elections."

Aaron E. Klein, chairman of the County Committee brought greetings and complimented the women on their fine efforts in behalf of the local county party.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ruth Heider, Mrs. Margaret Eckert, Mrs. Betty Bagliebter, Mrs. Pearl Glusker, Mrs. Rose Hogan, Mrs. Marie Koenig and Jeanette Kelly. Mrs. Belen Knauss, Mrs. Tullia Kellar and Mrs. Rhea Epstein were in charge of registration. Mrs. Patricia McConnell was on the program committee. Acknowledged at the speaker's table also were Mrs. Kaye Quick, president of the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, Mrs. Rose Hogan, vice chairman of the County Committee and Jack Bagliebter, State Committeeman from Ulster County. The Rev. Gerret J. Wulfschlegel of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Paltz gave the invocation.

Court Santa Maria Hears Mother M. Alice On Ecumenical Council, Liturgical Changes

Mother Mary Alice of Academy of St. Ursula, Kingston explained various changes made as a result of the Ecumenical Council at a breakfast meeting of Court Santa Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America.

The breakfast took place on May 2 with more than 89 in attendance. A hymn in honor of the occasion was sung by Mrs. Thomas Brocco with Mrs. Robert Liscom at the piano. The selection was "The Queen of May" which was composed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor of St. Peter's Church.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Allan Baker.

In her address, Mother Mary Alice outlined the reasons for the controversy concerning the Blessed Virgin. She said:

"If you have followed at all the proceedings of the Ecumenical Council, you may recall the vivid controversy which took place on the Council floor during the Second Session. The object of the debate was this: should the statement on the Blessed Virgin be treated as a separate schema or should it be included in the schema on the church."

It is Mother Mary Alice's contention that journalists are responsible for separating "the Council Fathers into two camps."

The speaker stressed that the Council did resolve the problem. "... It must be noted that the solution is more than a compromise, more than a mere balance between two extremes. What the Council finally stated about Mary was based on a coordination of theological investigation and insight as well as on a perspective of the history of salvation. And for this reason, the Council Fathers voted against a separate schema and embodied the treatment of Mary into the Decree on the Church."

The guest speaker went on to explain the meaning of "church," the Virgin Mary's relationship to the church, her obedience to Faith, Hope and Charity, and the examples she set forth for others to follow.

Upcoming events for Court Santa Maria include a rummage sale on May 7 and 8 at 102 Broadway from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. business meeting on May 13 with election of officers in the K of C building; spaghetti supper in the K of C building on May 20 from 5-7 p. m.; and a penny social on May 27th at 7 p. m.

The welcoming address was given by Mrs. John O'Connor.

League Thrift Shop Benefits Community; Established 1953

Since 1953, the Junior League of Kingston has operated a Thrift Shop at 45 Crown Street. The shop is well stocked with serviceable, good quality clothing and household articles at low prices. A fine line of antiques is also featured. This year, a Boutique Corner is being initiated. Shop hours are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Saturday.

Money realized from the Thrift Shop goes back to the community in the form of services rendered by Junior League volunteers. These services include a Loan Closet, lending medical aid equipment to the public; Children's Theater and Puppet Shows, which provide cultural enrichment for the children of the community. Volunteers also plan the Annual Cerebral Palsy Christmas party, and assist various health and welfare services. Junior League representatives serve on the boards of various local organizations, such as the Y.W.C.A., the Children's Home and the Home for the Aged.

The Junior League of Kingston was founded in 1922. Included among its early projects were serving for the Industrial Home (Children's Home), the hospitals, baby welfare work and well baby clinics, prenatal clinics and a bureau to provide dental or medical care for patients otherwise unable to be provided for and the distribution of books and magazines in hospitals. After the need and value of these health and welfare services had been demonstrated, they were continued under the auspices of either state or county agencies. The League, keeping step with the times, has made itself felt.

Currently, Junior League members are helping to spotlight Kingston's historical heritage by conducting walking tours of the uptown area. The organization is also looking forward to embarking on a new project in the county called "Historical Preservation."

The Junior League Thrift Shop is located in one of Kingston's historical stone houses.

INSPECT NEW HANDBOOK—A new handbook, Biology Experiments for High School Students, published by the American Cancer Society is now available to high school science teachers in this area. Looking over the 135-page publication are (l-r) the Mmes. Rudy Fimbach, Peter Roumelis, public education chairman of the Ulster County Cancer Society Unit, Frank Koenig, secretary of the board of directors and Paul Wendrow, director. The handbook, consisting of laboratory experiments contributed by 29 eminent scientists, seeks to interest students in the biological and medical sciences—especially cancer research. The experiments in the handbook demonstrate how scientific work is carried out in the laboratory. The goal of the handbook, according to George Svirsky, president of the Ulster County unit, is "to help produce a general citizenry better educated in science and technology; and, second, to help produce a pool of able, inspired students from which will come America's future scientists." Assisting Mrs. Roumelis in distributing the handbooks to county high school principals are Mrs. Fimbach, Ulster Park, Mrs. William Hurley, New Paltz, Mrs. Peter Messina, Ellenville and Mrs. Frank Koenig, secretary to the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Unit, ACS.

Dear Abby . . .

Give A Yell, Lady!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm, and every summer we are bombarded with the kids of our city relatives. Summers are important to a farmer because if he doesn't get his crops harvested then, it can cost him hundreds of dollars. Yet every summer, as soon as school is out, we have an endless stream of kids getting in the way, taking up our time and slowing up our work.

Don't say, "Put them to work," because some of those city kids are so lazy they won't even pick up their own clothes. They would rather walk around them.

If the situation were reversed, and we sent our kids to our city relatives, would their husbands take the kids to the office and watch them all day so they wouldn't get into trouble, hurt themselves, or break something? And I wonder how many city wives would like to give up their bridge parties and make extra meals and do extra laundry for the kids. What do you suggest?

FARMER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I suggest you tell your city relatives exactly what you have told me. People who permit others to impose on them because they lack the nerve to say "NO" have to put up with the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: My best friend from sorority (we are both graduated from college now) asked me to be her maid of honor. She's being married soon. I accepted. Then she called me long distance and said the best man was 6'4", and since I am only 5'1" we would look silly together. So how would I like to be one of the six bridesmaids? I said all right. Then she called again and said she hoped I wouldn't feel bad but all the other bridesmaids were tall girls, and I was too short to be a bridesmaid. She made

Lomontville Lamplighters

A meeting of the Lomontville Lamplighters was held at the home of Marcia Kahle on April 30. A report of her trip to New York was given by Judy Lyke. Miss Lyke was judged one of the top three sewing girls in the county.

Requirements for the dress review on May 7 were completed. Next meeting is set for June 4th.

me promise I'd come to her wedding anyway. My mother says if I go I am a sap. Abby, I have never heard of cutting a girl out of a wedding party because she was too short, have you?

DEAR SHORT: NO! Your friend, the bride, is also short on common sense and courtesy. I agree with your mother.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what you think of a mother who lets her four-year-old child kick her, hit her and slam her over the head with his toys or anything he happens to have in his hand at the moment? This little monster is so spoiled it is pathetic, and he has a very ugly virtue. My friend just laughs and says it doesn't hurt, and she makes no effort to correct or punish him. I feel so sorry for her.

DEAR ROAD: Don't waste your sympathy on the mother. The "little monster" will need it when he goes to school and tries to use those tactics on his teacher and playmates. When a mother neglects to teach her child how to control his emotions, he learns the hard way. And pays dearly for the lesson.

CONFIDENTIAL TO FASHION-MINDED: Yes, the skirts are getting shorter, and the necklines are plunging deeper. And I don't like it, either, but as long as the two don't eventually meet, we are lucky.

A successful politician is a man who can rock the boat himself and then pressure everybody else that there is a terrible storm at sea.

Justice Holmes — Ah, Ah, to be seventy again!

Diplomat — A man who convinces his wife that a woman looks stout in a fur coat.

Commuter — A traveling man who pays short visits to his home and office.

Lucy — Does your husband talk in his sleep?

Linda — No, and it's terribly asperating. He just grins.

Diplomacy — The patriotic art lying for one's country.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes and an associate went strolling one afternoon. The nonagenarian and his companion passed an intriguing young damsel. Wistfully the Justice turned for a lingering glance.

World Progress — Spending more money for face powder than for gun powder.

Conflicting Loyalties Seen Trapping Upstate Dem Solons

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Upstate Democratic legislators frequently find themselves trapped between conflicting loyalties in their first big test in the Legislature.

They are trying on one hand to win support from home areas with a long record of Republican conservatism.

Eye Demo Goals
On the other, they are trying to accommodate themselves to the statewide goals of a Democratic party controlling the Legislature for the first time in 30 years.

Reflection of the views of home areas in hopes of political survival appears to dominate, often at the expense of party goals.

It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between Upstate Democrats and the Republicans they succeeded.

This is true on major issues. The Upstate Democrats broke with their party leadership by opposing the budget and tax program supported by nearly all New York City Democrats.

Upstate members also proved the major stumbling block when Democratic leaders sought enough support to realize their long-standing goal of legalizing and taxing off-track betting on horse races.

Blocked Betting Bill

Upstate Democrats who rail against ever-increasing state budgets, more and higher taxes and the evils of gambling are hardly distinguishable from their GOP predecessors.

Regional thinking has prevailed on lesser issues.

Upstate Democrats joined with Republicans to kill a Democratic bill to authorize communities to lend money to low-income families for down payments on the purchase of apartments.

State-aided housing plans rarely fare well with Upstate voters.

Attacked Bill
When Upstate Republicans attacked this week a bill that would have made it easier to obtain a milk-dealer's license, they found Democrats at their side.

GOP lawmakers representing farm areas argued that the bill would open the way to cut-throat competition in an industry already plagued with economic problems. The Upstate Democrats were, if anything, louder in presenting the same objections.

New York City Democrats who said the bill would lead to lower prices and help consumers in their city were outnumbered by the combined Upstate forces.

Upstate Democrats appear to want to convince constituents that they can represent conservative views in such areas as spending, taxes and public housing, and still retain their credentials as Democrats.

Won in GOP Areas
Most of them won election in traditionally Republican districts on President Johnson's coat-tails last November. They now want to gain re-election on their own records.

Republicans for years told voters that Democrats elected from Upstate areas would be swallowed up by the dominant New York City faction of the party and would be unable to protect Upstate interests.

Democrats have argued that unchallenged Republican rule Upstate has led to stagnation and failure to meet modern-day problems.

Dangerous Play May Make Seven

By JACOB Y. SON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Sometimes a bridge expert can't see the forest for the trees. The American Contract Bridge League analysts in their discussion of hand 24 from the nationwide charity game imply that few pairs will reach the fine no-trump slam.

It probably is hard to bid if you want to be super-scientific but the bidding in the box shows how the slam probably was bid by many ordinary players. North just bids it after his partner's two no-trump rebid convinces him that there is no reason to try for a grand slam.

If West makes his normal opening lead of a spade, East will take his ace and hold declarer to his contract. If West opens a diamond declarer will also be held to six but a heart or club opening will allow some gambling declarers to make all the tricks.

South will cash dummy's two clubs right away and find out that East holds five clubs to the ten. Then he will run dummy's hearts. East will have to discard two diamonds in order to hang on to the ace of spades and all his clubs. South will discard the nine and three of spades and ten of diamonds before finally dropping his last low club.

Then he crosses to his king of diamonds and cashes his two good clubs. Finally he leads the seven of diamonds and finesesses successfully against West's jack.

Why did we call this play a gamble? Because East's last two cards might be the ten of clubs and jack of diamonds whereupon the try for an overtrick would cost him his small slam contract.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Meat prices at food markets may increase in the next few weeks and may stay high for several months. Fewer cattle and hogs are moving to market and supplies are tight.

There are also reports that the wholesale price of sugar is rising, partly due to the disorders in the Dominican Republic, a source of quick supplies of sugar.

However, only the major producers of candy and foods using sugar may feel the increase. The increase could be absorbed by the time the refined sugar reaches grocers' shelves.

Likely prospects for bargains at the nation's supermarkets this week are ribs of beef and steaks. Round roasts and poultry also may be featured.

Fresh fish are reported to be plentiful in many parts of the nation. Eggs still are below normal price levels for this time of year.

Orange production has been larger than expected recently, wholesale prices are lower and housewives may find the frozen concentrate cheaper at some markets.

Spring vegetables are moving to market at lower prices, with the possible exception of the Midwest, where unseasonable weather put a crimp in supplies.

Howard Rests After Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard, the New York Yankees' All-Star catcher, was resting at Lenox Hill Hospital today following surgery for the removal of bone chips from his right elbow.

Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the Yankees' team physician who performed the operation, said he removed two small chips from the joint of Howard's elbow.

"The operation appears a success," Dr. Gaynor said. "If everything goes according to schedule, Howard should be able to start exercising in three weeks."

Take 78½-43½ Win, in 3-Way UCAL Lead Tie

Five new school records were set by Rondout Valley Central yesterday as they swept a 78½-43½ victory over Highland at the Gander's field.

Lamont Taylor lowered his own previous hurdles record set earlier this year, from 22.3 to 22.1 seconds.

Ted Ayers similarly chopped 8.5 seconds off his own time for the two mile run. He held the earlier season time of 10:44.

Loren Conklin shot put toss of 41'1½" broke the previous 40'6" record held by graduate Alan Shaw.

Although Three Ganders failed to win in two other field events, they set new school records.

Ron Dunn placed second in the triple jump, but set a school record of 38'4", besting the previous record of 38'1".

Frank Barr, in placing a pole vault effort of eight feet even to tie with Highland's Lanzarone, also set a new RVCS record.

Lamont Taylor also placed first in the 100-yard dash.

Rondout got off to a fast start in the track events but the Highlanders held the edge in the field. There were no relays.

Coach Art Stockin's Ganders hold a UCAL record of 4-1, putting them into three-way tie with Ontario and Walkkill. They have a 4-3 overall record. Their next meet is Wednesday when they host Marlboro at the Ganders' field.

Walker Waiting For Clemente

CHICAGO (AP)—All Roberto Clemente has to do is to say he is ready to play and Pittsburgh Manager Harry Walker will greet him with open arms.

That's what Walker says. Clemente, defending National League batting champion, was not answering any telephone calls at his hotel room Wednesday night.

Clemente was quoted Wednesday by Al Abrams, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, as saying:

"I want to be traded from this club, and I don't want to play for this manager any more."

The Pirates lost 3-1 to the Cubs Wednesday and the teams wind up their series today.

Clemente has been benched for several games after being used as a pinch hitter Sunday in St. Louis. He reported late for spring training after a bout with malaria at his home in Puerto Rico.

He batted .339 last year and .351 in 1961, when he also won the batting crown. His average this season is .265.

"He hasn't said a word to me about wanting to be traded," said Walker. "We certainly need him and want him back in the line-up as soon as possible. In St. Louis Sunday he said he wasn't feeling very strong and probably needed a rest."

"I thought it was a good time to rest him. But whenever he comes to me and says he is ready, we'll certainly welcome him. He is better than a lot of guys when he isn't even up to par."

Win by 73½-48½, Set Broad Jump School Record

Onteora Central went into a three-way UCAL tie with Rondout Valley and Walkkill yesterday with a decisive 73½-48½ win over Pine Bush at the OCS field.

Junior Bob Crispell came within an inch of breaking the school record in the high jump with a 5' 9" effort.

John Hunlock's 10 foot mark in the pole vault was the first time that he had been able to better his high of nine feet.

The Onteora harriers, coached by Bernie Stahl and Dick Becker, will participate in the Hudson Valley Relays Saturday and play host next Wednesday to Saugerties.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, received strong performances from John Buzhardt and Joe Horlen, each pitching a four-hitter in 4-0 and 4-1 triumphs over Detroit. Camilo Pascual checked Baltimore on six hits in Minnesota's 9-2 victory and the Los Angeles Angels downed Boston 6-4.

Washington and Kansas City were not scheduled.

The Indians had lost 10 straight to the Yankees in Cleveland, but quicker than you can say Whitey Ford they had given Terry more working room than he needed.

Ford Ruffed Early

With two out in the first inning, Leon Wagner homered off Ford, Rocky Colavito singled, Max Alvis walked and Fred Whitfield homered. That eventually left Ford's record at 2-2.

Buzhardt, now 3-0, struck out 11 and allowed only one Tiger to reach third base in the opener while Bill Skowron and Ron Hansen supplied home run support. Skowron also doubled and scored another run while Hansen collected another run batted in with a sacrifice fly.

Horlen was tagged for an inside-the-park homer by Dick McAuliffe in the sixth inning and went into the seventh trailing 1-0. Then the White Sox struck for four runs.

Skowron's double, in between two walks issued by Dave Wickersham, loaded the bases. Smokey Burgess drove in two runs with a pinch-hit single before reliever Larry Sherry balked home one run and let in another with a wild pitch.

Pascual, bringing his record to 3-0, struck out eight and walked only one while Zoilo Versalles provided the power with four hits and four RBI. Versalles tripled home a run in the second, sapped a two-run single in the third and doubled home another in the seventh.

The Angels made it seven victories in nine games with rookie Paul Schaal nailing his fifth homer and Willie Smith slugging a double and two singles. Fred Newman got the victory for a 3-1 record with Bob Lee's ninth-inning relief help.

Skowron's double, in between two walks issued by Dave Wickersham, loaded the bases. Smokey Burgess drove in two runs with a pinch-hit single before reliever Larry Sherry balked home one run and let in another with a wild pitch.

The Angels made it seven victories in nine games with rookie Paul Schaal nailing his fifth homer and Willie Smith slugging a double and two singles. Fred Newman got the victory for a 3-1 record with Bob Lee's ninth-inning relief help.

Skowron's double, in between two walks issued by Dave Wickersham, loaded the bases. Smokey Burgess drove in two runs with a pinch-hit single before reliever Larry Sherry balked home one run and let in another with a wild pitch.

Pascual, bringing his record to 3-0, struck out eight and walked only one while Zoilo Versalles provided the power with four hits and four RBI. Versalles tripled home a run in the second, sapped a two-run single in the third and doubled home another in the seventh.

Bunning Blast Tops Spahn, 1-0

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phils, who made his comeback last year, has temporarily sidetracked Warren Spahn's 1965 revival by beating the great southpaw at his own game.

Bunning, whose perfect game last June 21 against the New York Mets helped him capture National League comeback laurels, returned to Shea Stadium Wednesday night and personally outscored the Mets and Spahn 1-0 with an opposite-field home run.

The homer was Bunning's first in the league. Spahn has 36, the all-time record for NL pitchers.

Moe's Best Game

Spahn, determined at 44 years of age to bounce back from his 6-13 season with Milwaukee in 1964, pitched his best game as a Met, matching Bunning's four-hitter. But the pitch that Bunning hit over the right field fence in the sixth inning made Spahn a loser for the second time in four decisions.

Bunning's homer left him seven behind San Francisco's Willie Mays for the year. Mays hit No. 8, high in the majors, in the Giants' 10-5, 10-inning victory at St. Louis. Milwaukee nipped Houston 2-1 in 14 innings, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped Cincinnati 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 in other NL games.

Bunning yielded four singles while improving his current record to 2-3. He retired 20 of 21 Met batters during one stretch and wrapped up the victory by striking out the side in the ninth.

"I hit a high curve ball," he said, of the home-run pitch. "Spahn should know better than to throw a high curve to a country boy — or a good-hitting pitcher."

The Giants exploded for five runs in the 10th inning after two errors by second baseman Phil Gagliano on the same play opened the gates. Jim Davenport led off the inning with a double, took third on a ground out and scored the go-ahead run when Gagliano bobbled Ed Bailey's grounder, then threw wildly to the plate.

A bases-loaded triple by Willie McCovey and a run-scoring double by Mays capped the rally. Mays' leadoff homer in the eighth had tied the score 5-5.

Goes 11 Innings Left-hander Dave Blasingame pitched the entire 11 innings for Milwaukee, yielding only five hits and striking out 12, while Eddie Mathews' two-out double in the 14th delivered Mack Jones with the winning run.

Dick Farrell, the Houston starter, was struck on the back of the head by Hank Aaron's line drive in the last of the ninth. He finished the inning but was removed for a pinch hitter in the 10th.

Home runs by Dick Tracewski and Ron Fairly helped Sandy Koufax, 3-1, top Cincinnati for the 1-6 a go-loading Dodgers. Fairly's inside-the-park homer and a two-run shot by Tracewski, both in the fifth inning, sent southpaw Jim O'Toole down to his fourth straight loss.

Chicago's Bob Buhl checked Pittsburgh on three hits for his third victory in four decisions. Jim Pagliaroni's eighth-inning homer ended his shutout bid.

Saugerties L.L. Opens on Monday Saugerties kicks off its 18th season of Little League baseball Monday with an arclighter between the Yankees and Tigers at the John C. Sauer Little League field.

Town of Saugerties Supervisor Peter Williams will throw out the first ball officially launching the season. Professor Merola's band will furnish incidental music.

Army Athletes Hit the Road

WEST POINT — Only two teams will be home this weekend as Army begins the second half of its spring schedule. Over the first half of the season, Army teams competed in 36 varsity events, winning 25 for a 69.4 victory percentage.

The Cadet baseball team turns its attention to Eastern League opposition, hosting Brown on Friday afternoon and Harvard on Saturday. Through results of this past weekend, Army was in third place just one-half game off the pace with a 2-1 record, while Harvard (3-3) and Brown (2-4) were in seventh and ninth places respectively.

Coach Eric Tipton plans to go with the two "aces", Mac Hayes, a junior righthander who has won three games without a loss thus far, gets the nod against Brown, while Barry DeBolt, another junior righthander, will pitch against defending champion Harvard. Two of DeBolt's three victories have come against league opponents.

Trackmen at Home Army's track squad will make its final home appearance before the season's finale with rival Navy when it plays host to Manhattan. After losing the opener to Penn State, the Cadet cindermen have come on strong in recent outings to score decisive wins over Yale and Notre Dame. Manhattan, especially strong in the weights, lost to Navy in its lone dual meet, but made a good showing in last week's Quantic Relays.

Turning to the away schedule, Army's lacrosse team (4-2) will try to get back on the winning track after two straight losses when it meets Virginia, while the tennis squad (7-3) will have its hands full at Brown and at Harvard. The golf assignment is the Eastern Intercollegiate championship at Yale.

72 Top Golfers In Colonial Play

By JIM MANGAN

Seventy-two of the top names in golf — here by invitation only — came to grips today with one of the toughest golf courses on the professional tour, the 7,132 yard Colonial Country Club layout. The winner takes home $20,000.

Julius Boros, the casual 46-year-old ex-accountant, carded a brilliant five-under-par 65 in a pro-amateur Wednesday and immediately moved up high on the favored list.

A two-time winner of the Colonial Invitation, Boros bogeyed only one hole and sank putts up to 25 feet in a round that was only one stroke over the competitive course record set by Doug Ford in 1961.

Seeking a second straight tournament victory will be Arnold Palmer, fresh from taking top money in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, his first tour triumph in almost a year.

Dapper Chi Chi Rodriguez, who staged a terrific birdie drive to almost match Palmer at Las Vegas, withdrew from the pro-am after nine holes, complaining of a pulled (cndon or muscle in his left shoulder. After a shot of cortisone administered by a prominent Fort Worth orthopedic surgeon, Chi Chi pronounced himself ready to go for the 72 holes.

Looming big in the select field — which includes a large number of youngsters hoping for a big upset — are the three big names from another era: Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Byron Nelson.

Five-time winner of the Colonial Invitation, Hogan in his heyday caused it to be nicknamed "Hogan's Alley." If his putting touch is working, the Fort Worth master stands a good chance to add another triumph to his string.

Two big names are missing from the field — Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player. Nicklaus was forced to pass up the tournament to be with his wife, who gave birth to a daughter Wednesday.

FATEFUL SINKING—A half-century ago, the greatest liner then afloat went to the bottom off the south coast of Ireland with a loss of 1,198 lives, 125 of them Americans. The sinking of Britain's Lusitania by a German submarine on May 7, 1915, horrified the world and was a major factor leading to United States entry into the World War 1 two years later. Debate continued for years after the war over German claims, and British denials, that the liner had been carrying munitions.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

I received an interesting letter sometime ago from Mrs. E. M. Hendry of 89 Abruyn Street, Kingston. She writes in part:

"After reading your column on the artistic decoration on the ceilings of rooms at 38 Maiden Lane and 132 West Chestnut Street, I asked my cousin, Arthur Finley about it. He wrote that the only decoration of that kind that he remembered was at his old home, 247 West Chestnut Street, and which was painted by his uncle, Will Finley just before the wedding of my father and mother. It was fresco work, with pink ribbon streamers and blue birds predominating. It seems no matter in what part of the parlor you were, the blue birds appeared to be flying this because as a child, I visited my relatives there. We lived in the House on the Rocks on West Pierpont Street. Often my mother and I took a walk up the hill and watched the trains go over the West Shore Railroad trestle, or the barges and boats go up or down the creek."

Mrs. Hendry's letters are not only interesting but always informative and she goes through a great deal of work to get the names of places, dates and addresses which I appreciate. She further writes: "As my mother liked to sew, she bought a Wheeler and Wilson Machine and made pretty clothes for me and my sister. There is a large oval picture of me in a sleeveless dimity with pink ribbon bows on the shoulders. It was taken in some studio uptown, perhaps the Lewis Studio, where Frank DuFon worked. After being displayed in the window for awhile, my mother bought it. It hung in our parlor with other family portraits until we moved to Yonkers, N. Y."

Mrs. Hendry further writes: "We kept the pictures but gave away many nice things like those pretty lamps with hand painted roses on the bases and globes, and the snow scene pictures of the country churches, all white and glistening." This sounds to me like the gone-with-the-wind lamps that antique dealers are now looking for. She also describes a brass pull-down hall lamp with a ruby shade. Kerosene lamps were used but many were converted to electric in later years. The only gas lights she remembers were in the wall brackets which she writes furnished poor illumination. She also writes about the meters which were installed in which quarters had to be dropped in the slot, when the lights became dim perhaps or went out.

Mrs. Hendry wrote me this letter in the end of February, and since then much has been written and spoken about the parking lots in the uptown section. I understand that bulldozing and destruction of landmarks and historic sites and old stone buildings is going on across the country by the powers that be, that groups are forming to try and save and preserve what is left, but they better hurry, for the almighty dollar in these deals is so much stronger than patriotic sentiment.

THE EVERGREEN CROSS—On the slope of Goat Hill, near Enumclaw, Wash., workmen of the Weyerhaeuser Company have created an evergreen cross. The area, used as a natural seeding source, is visible from the Chinook Pass highway. In addition to its natural beauty, it has served as the inspiration for poetry and meditation.

Brown Faces New Breed Politician

Ronald Reagan Has His Eye On California Governor Job

By BILL BOYARSKY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, victor over two California Republican giants in past campaigns, is edging toward a possible 1966 battle against a new breed of office-seeker — the actor turned politician.

Ronald Reagan, whose affable face was etched in the voters' memories by scores of movies and television shows, says he'd like to move into the executive mansion in Sacramento.

So do others, raising the prospect of a tumultuous election year in a state where both Democrats and Republicans are trying to patch up feuds.

Brown, now serving his second term as governor of the nation's most populous state, declines to comment on predictions by his friends that he'll try for a third.

Hope for Same Magic

They are hoping the same campaign magic that worked against former U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland in 1958 and against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon four years later will once again mean victory for the Democrats.

Brown says, "I can only tell you that there's one good fight in the old man yet."

Reagan's backers — who proudly wear the conservative label — are spurred on by the example of his fellow Republican, George Murphy, the state's new junior U.S. senator.

Former actor Murphy readily admits his film exposure gave an early push to his 1964 campaign. It ended with a win over Pierre Salinger, press secretary to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Against 'Bloody Primary'

At a recent meeting of the Volunteer California Republican Assembly, Reagan told reporters he is ready to run — but only if there would be "no bloody primary fight."

He sounded like a candidate as he told cheering delegates Brown is "a little Sir Echo who is determined to give California its biggest budget in history."

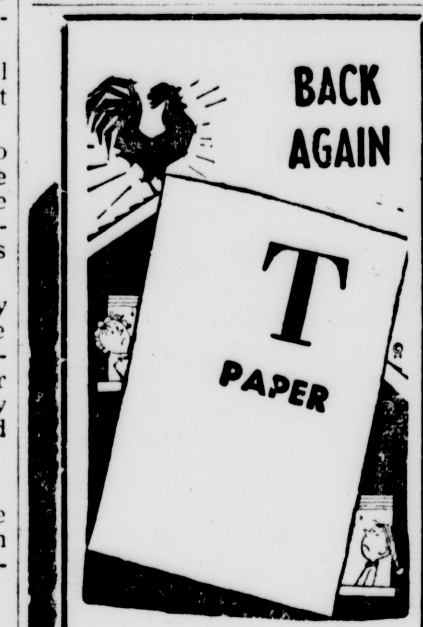

But there are indications that Reagan's wish to avoid blood-letting in the June primary may be a forlorn hope.

Bringing back memories of the bitter California presidential primary fight between Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Republicans who call themselves moderates are preparing to line up behind other candidates. U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel is a leading prospect.

There's not much unity among Democrats, either.

The governor has been fighting with Jesse M. Unruh of Los Angeles, powerful speaker of the state assembly in a complex dispute involving personalities and politics.

Unruh — once spoken of as a 1966 gubernatorial candidate — now says, "I have never indicated that I was going to run for governor this year, or next year or any other year."

Nab 19 Speeders

State Police Sergeant William Cameron of Highland, said today that troopers set up radar equipment on Route 9W in the Port Ewen area Wednesday, and nabbed 19 motorists on charges of speeding. The sergeant reported the accused motorists were clocked at speeds in excess of 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour speed zone. The summonses are returnable at later dates before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, Town of Esopus.

Powders Add Flair

Complementing the spring fabrics and lipstick colors are foundations and powders with more color. One compressed face powder also serves as a foundation. It has a touch of black and amber worked in three intensities to lighten light, medium, olive, ruddy or tanned skins.

Don't grown-ups know?

Every litter bit hurts

Grown-ups know. But they get careless. And that's why parks, recreation areas and camping grounds are so often marred by litter. Of course, you aren't responsible for the whole ugly mess. Or are you? If you toss even one bit of litter away, you can start the pile up. So please, Mom, Dad—lead the way to the litter basket. Use a car litterbag. On camping trips, carry trash out with you. If we grown-ups remember, our kids won't forget to Keep America Beautiful!

Way Left Open On VA Closings By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today supported President Johnson's proposed closing of veterans facilities and approved his request for $105,577,000 for public building construction in 31 cities.

Its action was in connection with a $14,086,408,000 appropriation bill financing 24 federal agencies and programs for the fiscal year starting July 1. The bill is scheduled for House debate next week. Its total is $444,615,000 less than the President requested.

The committee left the way open to change its mind about the planned shutdown of 11 veterans hospitals and some other veterans facilities, a proposal that has stirred up considerable congressional opposition.

The committee disapproved funds to keep the facilities operating after June 30. It said there will be ample opportunity for the House to restore the funds before June 30.

Electrical Industry Price - Fixing Is Near Settlement for $400 Million Sum

NEW YORK (AP) — The bulk of the nation's electrical equipment industry, caught in a price-fixing scandal in 1960, today is in the final stages of settling damages approaching $400 million.

But because of a controversial tax ruling, the companies stand to save almost half the cost through tax deductions. The ruling has sparked a clash between the Internal Revenue Service and some congressmen who charge that General Electric, Westinghouse and the 27 other antitrust violators are getting soft treatment. In the background is the case itself, one the Justice Department said involved secret agreements over eight years to fix prices, rig bids and divide markets on electrical equipment valued at $1.75 billion annually.

The companies and 45 executives pleaded guilty or no contest to 20 antitrust indictments before a federal judge in Philadelphia who called the price-fixing "a shocking indictment" of a vast section of the economy. He sentenced seven executives to jail for 30 days in 1961

Charge Dutchess Wife in Slaying, Followed Tiff

A 40-year-old Dutchess County man was shot to death after a family quarrel in the living room of his home late Wednesday night, and his wife was arrested later on a charge of first degree murder.

Sheriff Lawrence M. Quinlan identified the dead man as Alfred A. Bach, of 7 Rogers Place, Hyde Park, an employee at the IBM plant in Poughkeepsie.

To Appear Saturday
Charged with murder is his wife, Jean Bach, 40. She was arraigned early today before Justice of the Peace John C. Diehl, Town of Hyde Park, who adjourned the case until Saturday, May 8 at 10 a. m.

The arrest was made after an intensive investigation by Sheriff Quinlan, District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta, Assistant District Attorney John R. Heilman Jr. and sheriff's aides. According to Sheriff Quinlan, Mrs. Bach met her husband after work yesterday and drove to Poughkeepsie, where they stopped at a workshop operated by Samuel Saintomas on Cannon Street. Saintomas, a friend of the family, resides at 31 Grand Avenue.

Quinlan told The Freeman that while in the workshop, Mrs. Bach allegedly picked up a .38 caliber revolver and ammunition belonging to Saintomas. She reportedly put the weapon and bullets in her hand bag, and drove home after Saintomas said he would drive Bach to his home later.

Two or Three Shots
The sheriff said the Bachs had engaged in a family argument. Late last night, Saintomas drove Bach to his Hyde Park residence, and after a brief visit returned to Poughkeepsie. Quinlan said the quarrel continued and as the couple were in the living room of their home, Mrs. Bach allegedly fired two or three shots at her husband.

According to investigation, Mrs. Bach telephoned the Saintomas home and said she had shot her husband. Mrs. Bach notified the sheriff. Quinlan and Chief Deputy Charles Borchers, Sergeant John Dakin and Deputy Frank Hadden and Gerald Kaplan hurried to the Bach residence, where they later were joined by the district attorneys and Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant county medical examiner.

Quinlan told news reporters that Bach was shot at least twice and probably three times or more. He said an autopsy was ordered. One bullet entered the victim's mouth, and another hit his abdomen, the sheriff said. He also reported that it appeared that a third bullet hit Bach below his heart. One of the bullets, according to the sheriff, went through the victim's right wrist. The revolver was recovered by the investigators.

Cosmonaut Lost Sense of Balance During Space Walk

CHICAGO (AP) — A Moscow space-medicine specialist says Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov lost his sense of balance, but kept his head when he became the first man to leave an orbiting satellite and float in outer space.

The specialist, Dr. Oleg Gazenko, Wednesday night then drove his point home with a dramatic 25-minute film taken aboard Voskhod 2. The film has never been viewed in America before.

Speaking through a translator, Dr. Gazenko said Leonov "did have a problem of orienting himself" when he turned his vision away from the Soviet spaceship Voskhod 2. It was launched at 2 a. m. March 18 and landed at 4:02 a. m. March 19. It was in space 26 hours and orbited the earth 17 times.

"His (Leonov's) orientation in space was disturbed and the direction of the spaceship was very hard (for him) to find," Dr. Gazenko added.

He addressed the convention of the American Astronautical Society.

Hall had been participating in military maneuvers at Camp Drum, near here.

Sweet Smelling Fuel

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—This beach city's buses smell. People stand on corners and sniff when the buses go by. The reason is perfumed fuel.

City transportation director Tom Prior says the floral scent is inexpensive and already has reaped a huge harvest of good-will after a month of testing.

"We haven't had a single complaint," he said, "only compliments."
